General situation: The IOM Rapid Assessment and Rapid response Team (RART) in Al Qaim reported that 1,680 Syrian families are currently living in Al Qaim camps, and nearby cities (Al Qaim city, Aana, Rawa and Heet) in the Anbar governorate. On 1 April, IOM’s team in Anbar started visiting these families in order to validate the numbers and conduct vulnerability assessments of the families.

IOM teams conduct routine vulnerability assessments in camp settings and urban areas, when vulnerable cases are identified. IOM refers these cases to health partners within the camps and to the Health Cluster partners. IOM’s team in Anbar reported that there is a growing need for medical supplies and medicine in Al Qaim camps, particularly treatments for chronic diseases (asthma, diabetes mellitus and hypertension).
