Regional dynamics

South Sudan: Days after the end of a "month of tranquility" in South Sudan, army officials say there has been fighting in Upper Nile and Unity states, two of the hotspots in the nearly six-month-old conflict in the young country. United Nations humanitarian coordinator in South Sudan, Toby Lanzer, said the so-called "month of tranquility" resulted in the most peaceful month so far this year in South Sudan.

South Sudanese former vice-president and leader of the armed opposition faction of the ruling Sudan People's Liberation Movement (SPLM-in Opposition), Riek Machar, finished a 6 day visit with the Kenyan top leadership on Sunday 1st June. This is seen as the first leg in a tour of a number of the regional countries, particularly those that take part in the IGAD-led mediation efforts in Addis Ababa between the opposition group and the government.

WHO confirmed that the cholera outbreak in Juba has now spread beyond the capital city to other parts of Central Equatoria state and in distant Upper Nile state. The outbreak has already claimed 27 lives with 1,124 infected according to government health minister.

Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC): The International Conference on the Great Lakes Region (ICGLR) relayed information, last week, from the Congolese government that the FDLR "have announced to surrender and will hand over their arms on Friday, May 30, at Baleusa and at Lubumba, in North Kivu and South Kivu provinces, respectively." It is believed that only around 100 militiamen surrendered in North Kivu with none doing so in South Kivu. This is seen as an insignificant number by the UN special envoys to the region who renewed further calls for surrender of arms by all FDLR fighters. The 105 men surrendered with their weapons on Friday at a grammar school in Kateku, about 220 kilometres north of Goma, capital of North Kivu province according to reports. The FDLR has around 1,500 men, according to UN estimates.

A regional meeting of the Resident Coordinators in support of the Peace and Security Framework and the work of the UN Special Envoy for the Great Lakes took place in Kigali on 28 – 30 May. The RCs attended the meeting with several UN agencies and an action plan was established to ensure regional coherence and support to enhance regional peace and security through developmental activities.

Preparedness & Response

The Office of the Prime Minister (OPM) and UNHCR, with the support of partners, are coordinating the maintenance in the northwest of Nyumanzi transit centre (TC), Ocea RC and Waju II TC; in the midwest of Bubukwanga TC and Kiryandongo RC; and in the southwest of Nyakabande TC, Matanda and Bubukwanga TC.

Contingency Planning: The operational planning figure has been revised upward to 150,000. A new regional appeal with the additional needs is currently being prepared. UNHCR, in collaboration with sister UN organizations and partner agencies, has finalised a regional contingency plan with "most likely" (300,000 refugees by end of the year) and "worst case" (450,000 refugees by end of the year) scenarios. Following a workshop with all partners concerned on 13 May to validate the emergency response strategy and costing for the most likely scenario, the regional contingency planning on the most likely scenario was shared during the Humanitarian Pledging Conference for South Sudan on Tuesday 20 May in Oslo, Norway. The country level plans are being finalised for Uganda.
