This update provides information on the protection environment in Somalia, including apparent violations of Human Rights and International Humanitarian Law as reported during the last two weeks through the IASC Somalia Protection Cluster monitoring systems. Incidents mentioned in this report are not exhaustive. They are intended to highlight credible reports to inform and prompt programming and advocacy initiatives by the humanitarian community and national authorities.

GENERAL OVERVIEW

The Transitional Federal Government (TFG) began the planned eviction operations of people, including a large number of protracted internally displaced persons (IDPs) in public buildings in Mogadishu. The Population Movement Tracking (PMT) data indicates that during the reporting period over 2,500 IDPs were evicted from Hamar Wayne, Waberi and Shibis districts of the capital and arrived in Wadajir and Hodan districts. Through discussions with government officials, the humanitarian community expressed their concern with regards to eviction operations in the coming weeks, while emphasizing the importance of finding alternative accommodation for the IDPs.

Fighting between Al Shabaab forces and forces supporting the TFG continued in Lower Juba, Middle Shabelle and Banadir regions resulting in over 3,300 security related displacements. While the majority of people from Kismaayo, Baadhede and Afmadow districts of Lower Juba region fled to the border town of Dhobley those displaced from Afgooye area of Lower Shabelle region arrived in various districts of Mogadishu to seek protection.

Tensions in Hiraan region also continued to rise, including outbreaks of guerrilla warfare and two bombings carried out by Al Shabaab targeting Ethiopian military. Increased insecurity in Hiraan region consequently resulted in protection violations by armed forces, including the arbitrary arrests of suspected Al Shabaab members, as well as restrictions on movement of civilian population as a result of curfews.

The PMT data indicates that cross border movements declined during the past two weeks. The number of refugees returning from Kenya and Ethiopia has declined with some 800 refugees arriving in Somali border towns compared to approximately 3,300 people arriving during the last two weeks of January. In addition to taking advantage of prosperous Deyr seasonal rains in Somalia and revive their agricultural activities in their places of origin, the refugees stated that ‘lack of livelihoods’ and ‘insecurity’ in the refugee camps still the main reasons for their return.¹

The fighting that first erupted on 26 January between Sool, Sanag Clan militias (SSC) and Somaliland forces resumed in Buuhoodle district of Togdheer region on 9 February following the declaration of the Khaatumo State.² A report suggests that the fighting resulted in over 1,000 families being displaced within Buuhoodle district.³ This number is to be confirmed. Continued tensions in the area raises concerns about the probability of Somaliland beginning a conflict with the semi-autonomous region of Puntland, particularly after Puntland's President Abdirahman Mohamud (Farole), warned the Somaliland authorities of fomenting disorder in Buuhoodle.⁴
In light of ongoing armed conflict in Somalia, a limited humanitarian access, particularly in Al Shabaab controlled areas, the United Nations warned of a crisis in Somalia, despite the announcement indicating the end of famine.\(^5\) During the reporting period, the operation of humanitarian agencies was severely affected on 31 January when Al Shabaab’s administration for Affairs of Foreign Agencies (OSAFA) retracted the permission for International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) to operate in the areas under their control due to distribution of expired food.\(^6\) This allegation was however rejected by ICRC, saying that no expired food was distributed among the population, although they did admit that six percent of the food intended for distribution in their warehouses had been spoiled due to extreme heat, moisture and exposure to heavy rain.\(^7\)

MOGADISHU (BANADIR)

Following an announcement issued by the TFG of public buildings, on 31 January, the TFG forces began an unplanned eviction of individuals from the buildings intended for rehabilitation.\(^8\) Reports indicate that people, including IDPs have so far left the buildings located in Hamar Wayne, Waaberi and Shangani districts of Mogadishu and are arriving mainly in Waaberi and Hodan districts.\(^9\) Reports further indicate that some residents were arrested by the Police when they refused to leave the buildings.\(^10\)

Meanwhile, Al Shabaab’s guerilla attacks in Mogadishu persisted over the past two weeks\(^11\) in Dayniile, Heliwa, Yaaqshiid and Karaan districts, including IED attacks, as well as over nine hand grenade attacks,\(^12\) resulting in at least 35 civilian casualties. The fiercest clashes took place in Tiida & Bangala areas of Dayniile district.\(^13\) The prevailing insecurity continues to restrain the work of humanitarian agencies and consequently the provision of basic services.

Nevertheless, a recent report indicate that sexual gender based violence (SGBV is increasing in the Stadium IDP settlement in Hargeisa with an estimated 30,000 people.\(^\text{23}\) The increase is mainly due to lack of police presence, poor shelter, as well as livelihood opportunities. HIRAAN & GALGADUUD

The situation in Belet Weyne district, Hiraan region remains tense, as Al Shabaab guerilla style attacks also began here over the past two weeks which caused great fear among the civilian population. Consequently, the Ethiopian forces imposed long hours of curfew in towns, severely restricting the freedom of movement and daily activities of the civilians. Residents expressed discontent over the ongoing curfews in Belet Weyne district during the reporting period. There are concerns that continued restrictions on civilian populations by TFG allied forces may increase popular support for Al Shabaab.

The trend of Somali refugees returning from Ethiopia to border town Dollow, Gedo region for harvesting stopped during the reporting period, most likely due to permission licence requirements by the Administration for Refugee and Returnee Affairs (ARRA) - the government entity responsible for the implementation of refugee protection and assistance activities in Ethiopia, as well as incidents of Ethiopian army turning back refugees who have not obtained permit.

Tensions remain high in Luuq and Belet Hawo district of Gedo region, as well as Bakool region due to increase military build-up in the area, which is challenging the humanitarian access. Reports indicate that people are being robbed by unknown bandits near the town of Luuq, Gedo region or being stranded inside areas where fighting is still going on. Through out the week Al Shabaab administration in Bay and Bakool multiplied calls to local residents to unite against a possible offensive by TFG allied forces.
