Operational Context

- On 4 June, France declared it will reduce its troop presence in the CAR from 1,700 to 900 soldiers by the end of the month, and that its remaining presence would be focused in the capital, Bangui. Several bases under French control, such as Ndélé and Bria, have been handed over to MINUSCA.

- The Heads of State and Government of the International Conference on the Great Lakes Region (ICGLR) concluded their meeting in Luanda, Angola convened to discuss the security and humanitarian situation in the Great Lakes Region including a focus on the Central African Republic. At the end of the summit, the ICGLR called for the UN to “lift the current sanctions and arms embargo on the CAR, and urge current African members of the UN Security Council to support that move in order to facilitate the reestablishment of a functional national security force.”

- Following the end of the Bangui Forum, which saw the adoption of a pact for peace, national reconciliation and reconstruction, a Comité de suivi du Forum was set up consisting of 25 members who are to ensure the implementation of Forum recommendations and to form a steering committee that would prepare the budget for the remaining transition period.

The profiling exercise is enshrined within the Humanitarian Country Team (HCT) request to develop a strategy for return/durable solution for IDPs. The concept note has been sent to the Joint IDP Profiling Service (JIPS) to request technical support.

- On 21 May, the Protection Cluster participated, in Bangui, in the fifth Sub-regional Annual Conference on Human Rights in Central Africa with participants from OHCHR in Chad, Cameroon, Congo, DRC and CAR. Discussions focused on three key points including the problematic of human rights violations in the sub-region; the electoral process in Central Africa and mechanisms of monitoring and prevention of post-electoral violence; and transitional justice in the sub-region. The Protection Cluster presented the protection situation in CAR in line with cross-border issues such as transhumance and human rights violations in border areas.

- There is a general lack of access to potable water due to the absence of necessary infrastructure in refugee sites in Betou. There are 478 people per water point at 15 avril site and 563 per water point in Ikpengbele. The situation is a lot worse in other self-settlements of refugees such as Mouale or Mokabi.
The situation of latrines also needs to be urgently improved as there are about 150 people per latrine in both refugee sites.

UNHCR’s implementing partner, the Agence d’assistance pour les Rapatries et les Réfugiés au Congo (AARREC), is currently constructing on 15 avril site 3 wells, 6 latrine units, 6 shower units, a washing area, and 5 waste pits in view of improving the sanitary and hygiene situation.

CHAD

Achievements and Impact

- UNHCR’s partner CARE conducted a conditional cash transfer to poor and to vulnerable households at the Gondje, Amboko and Doholo camps, covering the months of May and June 2015. At Amboko, 18 groups composed of 290 direct beneficiaries and 1,728 indirect beneficiaries benefited from the transfer; at Gondje there were 11 groups of 220 direct and 1,187 indirect beneficiaries; and at Doholo, 5 groups of 100 direct and 377 indirect beneficiaries. Among the selection criteria for reception of the cash transfer are special needs, single mothers with over two children per household, elderly persons living alone and persons living with a disability. The indirect beneficiaries are considered to be the family members of the recipient of the cash transfer, which are to be used for payment of school fees, early medical attention for children and water bills. There is also an expectation that the community as a whole will indirectly benefit from the transfer as it is an injection of monetary resources into the local economy.
