Identified Needs and Remaining Gaps

Enhanced identification of specific needs and vulnerabilities is required in accommodation centres and informal settlements. UNHCR is exploring ways to enhance its support to the authorities in this regard.

More support is needed to accelerate national refugee status determination (RSD) procedures for those who are interested in seeking asylum in Serbia.

Cases of SGBV continue to be reported by UNHCR and partners. Further support is required to ensure provision of timely and adequate response to SGBV incidents.

Depression and stress are widespread amongst refugees, asylum-seekers and migrants. More recreational and occupational activities, as well as psychosocial support (PSS), are required in accommodation facilities.

Alternative care arrangements and enhance services for unaccompanied and separated minors should be strengthened.

Continued irregular departures and presence in Belgrade city centre expose refugees/migrants to various heightened protection risks including robberies, abuse by smugglers, as well as accidents.

On 19 June, following the success of previous joint volunteering actions with local residents and refugees/migrants in Šid, Preševo and Belgrade, UNDP organized joint refurbishment of sports fields and organised a sport tournament in Kikinda. State Secretary of the Ministry of Public Administration and Local Self-Government (MPALGS) and a member of Kikinda City Council joined the volunteers. While adults were engaged in cleaning and painting, youngsters played games and exchanged tennis and badminton shots, in the course of a friendship tournament.
