Information for interviewer

All evidence generation practices must abide by UNICEF / UNHCR and ODI’s ethical guidelines at all times. All interviewees must give informed consent. Any interviews involving children and young people must take into account their competencies, and consent must be sought from a parent or guardian. Where possible, consent must still be given by the individual themselves. The interview must be conducted in a friendly and familiar environment in which the interviewee feels comfortable in order to minimize stress, and in the presence of their parent or guardian.

All participants must be made aware of the voluntary nature of their participation, and the decision whether to participate, including dissent or unwillingness to participate, must be respected. Interviewees must be made aware of their ability to withdraw at any time during the interview. Interviewees must be given the option to have the information they provide remain fully anonymous.

Please read the introduction to the interviewee(s) and answer any questions they may have, and ask the interview to indicate their consent by signing the consent form in Annex A, before conducting the interview.

Introduction

Interviewer to read aloud:
I would like to thank you for accepting to be part of this focus group discussion on UNICEF child cash grant and UNHCR Cash Transfer programmes as well as other cash transfer benefits that you might receive.

My name is .................................................................................. from ..................................................................................; and today we are here today to discuss the benefits and effects of Cash transfers that you are receiving.

Your input will help us with the monitoring and evaluation of this programme as well as contributing to the design of similar programmes in the future. You are kindly requested to provide answers about the topic based on your current experience and personal opinion. Giving your opinion with full transparency will help donors understand the benefit of the cash transfers and hence provide further support to refugees like yourself.

There are no right or wrong answers, and you are free to ask for clarification at any time if you do not understand the question. Also, please be assured that the answers you give today will not have any implications for receiving the cash transfers.

Our discussion / house visit will take about four to five hours. The discussion taking place will be kept confidential, and your name will be kept anonymous, unless you don’t mind such information being revealed. Please note that, if you don’t feel comfortable, you can withdraw from the discussion at any time.

I hope to be able to record our conversation on this tape recorder. This recording will only be used by us, the researchers, during this study and not shared with UNICEF/UNHCR or other people. We will ensure that the transcripts and recordings will be anonymized and that no third parties will have access to the raw research material. Please do inform us if you are uncomfortable with this arrangement.

Interviewer: Ask participants to sign Annex A or to acknowledge they have given consent on the tape recording and photography.

Discussion guide (adults)

Interviewer: Use the following questions to guide your information gathering, and encourage the participants to elaborate as much as possible on their answers.

Details of their story:

1. Where in Syria is your family from?
2. When did you / your family first come to Jordan and why? Did all of your family member come to Jordan or are some still in Syria? Are all of your children still with you?
3. Who do you live with and where? (Get details of the whole family / all people living in the household including age of children, if they go to school, what livelihoods people engage in, daily activities etc.; also ask about the activities of family members that live in other areas in Jordan or have migrated elsewhere.)
4. Are you able to work? If not – why not? If so – where do you work? Have you worked in Jordan before? What is it like to work here / not being able to work anymore? Is this different for women and men? Why? Was this different from in Syria? What did you do in Syria? How did you make money before?
5. How is your relationship with your neighbours and others in the host communities? (probe around discrimination / economic situation of Jordanian people host communities? Also ask about feelings of isolation and social support structures available / non-available in Jordan?)

Programme details:

1. Which cash transfer benefits do you receive? When did you start receiving the cash transfer(s) – e.g. from UNICEF / UNHCR / WFP etc.? How often do you receive it? Who goes to collect it? Where do you go to collect it? How is your relationship with the shop owners’ / bank owners? Who decides what the funding gets spend on in your household? And is this decision-making different to other income sources? Probe for differences between the UNHCR / UNICEF / WFP systems in delivery, process and amounts available etc.
2. How many children does your family receive the grant for? Do you or your family have any special needs or circumstances? Ask them to give details.
3. Have you faced any challenges regarding the cash transfer (including doesn’t come regularly, ATMs not working, distance/cost to travel to ATMs, also probe for issues in the enrollment phase vs. implementation phase etc.)? (differs for the different donors?)
4. How is your relationship with programme implementers of the different programmes (UNICEF vs. UNHCR and WFP?) (including social workers, bank people, etc.)? Do they visit you often? (when was the last time), can you turn to them if you have a problem? Do you feel they listen to you, and can provide you with meaningful support?

5. What do you do if you have a problem with the cash transfer(s)? (probe are there complaints procedures / grievances process, help lines, does this differ for the various transfers etc.)

6. Do you share problems related to the CT with other beneficiaries? If so, when, how, how often?

7. Have you ever made a complaint and/or used a helpline when you were unsatisfied about the cash transfer? If so, what happened? If not, why not (didn’t know about complaints procedures, thought might lose cash transfer, etc.).

Ask for exact details and quantitative figures wherever possible.

1. How has/have the cash transfer(s) had an impact on your life? And on your children’s lives? And on the lives of other members in your household? (Probe around food security and nutrition living conditions, financial situation, mental and physical wellbeing, levels of happiness, feelings of housing security, differences for the different programmes / modalities).

2. What has changed when you started receiving the additional CT grant from UNICEF (if the family receives this grant; don’t ask if the family does not receive this type of grant)?

3. Who in your family decides what the CT grant(s) get spend on? Is this always the way money is spent in your household? Has this changed because of the CT grant(s)?

4. Have relationships between you and other members in your household changed as a result of the cash transfer(s)? If so, how? (including decision-making, tensions, etc.)

5. Have relationships between you and other people around you changed because of the cash transfer(s)? (including other refugees in and out of camps, other refugee groups, host communities) and how? (explore positive and negative changes; differences between the different modalities)

6. Has the cash transfer(s) affected your relationships with Jordanians in the area you live in?

7. Has your access to other services increased because of the cash transfer(s) (probe for spillover effects on ability to access services – e.g. health or legal aid or educational support for children)? (what was you not able to do and can do now due to the Cash support mechanisms?)

Ask them to explain how this has happened, who it has affected, and in what ways.

1. Have these CT programmes had an impact on your / your family’s life / lives in the longer term?

2. If the cash transfer(s) stops, how would this affect your lives?

3. If the cash transfer(s) stops, how would you manage your situation? (Reassure them before asking the question that this does not mean that the grant will stop – state that we are talking about a hypothetical scenario).

4. Do you have access to or benefit from any other programme or services? What are those services? How do they help you? Have you received vouchers or in-kind assistance now or in the past? Do you prefer the cash, voucher or in-kind approach?

Specific exercises and questions to children

Questions to children

1. Do you know anything about the cash transfer project(s) your parents / your family is part of? If so, can you share with us what you know?

2. How was your life before your family started receiving the cash transfer(s)? (probe e.g. on household dynamics, nutrition, access to education etc.)

3. What has changed since your family starting receiving the cash transfers (probe e.g. on household dynamics, nutrition, access to education etc.). What has receiving the support/ CT(s) allowed you / your family to do? How does this make you feel?

4. Has anything changed specifically for you and your brothers and sisters since your family has started receiving the cash transfer benefits? When and how?

5. Do you have a say as to what gets purchased? And if so: how? If not: what would you purchase if you had a say about what gets purchased with the money?

6. Have people treated you or your family differently since your family receives the support? And if so: how? (negative and positive changes)
Exercises with children

Worries (concern) exercise

Ask children to list or write down on index cards (or help them to do this), all the things that they have worried about in the last week (‘free listing’). These should be worries that are ‘local’, so it doesn’t have to be about ensuring world peace, and it should be relevant to their lives. For example, related to family, friends or environment. Have them sort them into “things that you worry about and can share” and “things that you worry about but can’t share”, putting them into two different coloured envelopes. We need to either record in the notes or through a photograph which cards went in which envelope (why we are doing this will be explained during the introduction when researchers ask for consent).

After they have generated their own list—then probe with specifics:

- E.g. hunger, not being able to go to school, not having enough school supplies, bullying at school, violence in the broader community, disagreements in the household, body changes, toilets (e.g. in slum areas, schools, communal toilets, mobility, harassment, having to work (boys), in context of menstruation, risk of violence (e.g. for boys and girls)) [although need to take care as to who is present during the interview], etc.
- With each, ask who could help them with this worry and how—and then find out whether they have ever actually sought support. If they subsequently think of another worry, they can add it to the envelope.
- In the case of intra-household disagreements, ask what sorts of things people do and how the children respond and how do they feel about it.

Example of a worry exercise

Social network analysis (to highlight intra household dynamics and support structures for children)

Ask children who they like spending time with and why and what they like to do together, how often they see each other etc. Divide the page into four quarters representing people children spent time with, get support from, worries, share good news, and prefer to avoid. Start with a picture of them in the middle and go through each quarter asking them to list the people who this applies to (this can be done as a group, or individually first (‘free listing’) and then discussed in a group).

- First ask children to think about the people they spend time with and draw symbols for the activities they enjoy doing together
- Next ask children to think about all the people [teacher/aunt/mother/peer/sibling/friend/other relative – not just name – name + relationship to child] in their lives who could help them if they had a problem. If they answer a peer, then probe ‘Is there an adult you would go to as well, if not why not?’ and vice versa.
- And if something positive/exciting happened in their life who would you share this with. Then ask about overlaps in who they would talk to/confide in – same or different and why. Then have them write them down or draw them. When they say that they talk to someone, ask how they do this, for example, face-to-face, on the phone or via the internet.
- Finally, ask the children whether there are any people in your life whom you spend time with that you don’t enjoy and why? If this feel too sensitive, please phrase as girls/ boys of your age and ask who don’t they like to mix with? (this will keep it from becoming too personal).

Example of a social support quadrant below (please note that we won’t use the visual image when doing this exercise with the older adolescents):

Quotes

Provide 1 to 3 quotes from the individual(s) you are working with. Quotes should be restricted to 2 lines that reflects their feelings/ beliefs etc.

Research Purpose

Focus Group Discussions (FGD) will be conducted to better understand the perceptions of Syrian refugees benefiting from the cash transfer programme towards the transfers they receive from UNICEF/UNHCR alongside gathering information on grant use, expenditure patterns and adoption of coping mechanisms. The results will elicit qualitative information that will be used to inform a report on the cash transfer as well as to inform future Monitoring and Evaluation work around the cash transfer programmes.

Focus Groups Selection

The selection of focus group participants will be purposive and stratified, in that individuals will be invited to participate in each discussion based on their vulnerability status determined by their family’s level of poverty, gender, number of children and need for protection. Key stakeholders participating in the study included the following groups: heads of Female Headed Households (FHH); heads of Male Headed Households (MHH); women in Male Headed Households – both young women as well as young men in households receiving the cash transfer.

Given the conservative social norms in many of the beneficiary populations, the research team will interview beneficiaries in single sex groups so that participants would feel comfortable to articulate their views freely. Focus group discussions will be held in groups of up to 10 people, allowing all participants the chance to have their opinions heard. Each focus group will last approximately 90 minutes.

Ethics during the discussions

The facilitator has to keep in mind while listening to the answers of the respondents that the Inter-agency Vulnerability Assessment Framework (VAF) defines vulnerability as:

The risk of exposure of Syrian refugee households to harm, primarily in relation to protection threats, inability to meet basic needs, limited access to basic services, and food insecurity, and the ability of the population to cope with the consequences of this harm.

Introduction

To be read out aloud by the facilitator.

I would like to thank you all for coming,

My name is __________________________ from__________________________; we are here today to discuss the benefits and effects of the Child Cash transfers that you receive from the UNICEF/UNHCR. Your input will help us in designing a demand driven cash programme that will satisfy your emergency needs while providing social protection to your children.
You are kindly requested to provide answers about the topic based on your current experience and personal opinion of this grant. Please feel free to be open and frank with us; all names will be kept anonymous. There are no right or wrong answers, and you are free to ask for clarification at any time if you do not understand the question. Also, please be assured that the answers you give today will not have any implications for receiving the cash grant.

Our discussion will take about 90 minutes. We want this to be a group discussion, so feel free to participate without waiting to be called on. However, we would appreciate it if only one person speaks at a time. Be assured that all of you will have equal opportunity to express your opinions and please be respectful to opposing attitudes/statements expressed by another participant. There is a lot we want to discuss, so at times I may need to keep the discussion moving on to the next topic.

I hope to be able to record our conversation on this tape recorder. This recording will only be used by us, the researchers, during this study to help us with our notes and not shared with UNICEF/UNHCR or other people. We will ensure that the transcripts and recordings will be anonymized and that no third parties will have access to the raw research material. Please do inform us if you are uncomfortable with this arrangement.

The discussion taking place will be kept confidential, and your names will be kept anonymous. You can withdraw from the discussion at any time.

During the discussion it would be good if we could all respect some ground rules.

Ask all participants to turn their phones on silent – indicating that they are allowed to leave temporarily if there is an urgent call.

Now I would like to hear from you.

Ask participants to introduce themselves before you start

Questions

The moderator will use four types of questions as needed; open-ended, follow-up, probing and prompted questions. In some cases, the moderator will follow a sequence that consists typically of four parts.

1. Starting with the main question and listening for its answer.
2. Then s/he will follow up and inquire about the answers.
3. And probe to clarify.
4. If necessary, they prompt (cue or aide) the probing questions

14 Research Instruments: Effects of the UNHCR and UNICEF cash assistance for Syrian refugees in host communities in Jordan
Information for interviewer

All evidence generation practices must abide by UNICEF/UNHCR and ODI’s ethical guidelines at all times. All interviewees must give informed consent. The interview must be conducted in a friendly and familiar environment in which the interviewee feels comfortable in order to minimize stress, and in the presence of their parent or guardian.

All participants must be made aware of the voluntary nature of their participation, and the decision whether to participate, including dissent or unwillingness to participate, must be respected. Interviewees must be made aware of their ability to withdraw at any time during the interview. Interviewees must be given the option to have the information they provide remain fully anonymous.

Please read the introduction to the interviewee(s) and answer any questions they may have, and ask the interview to indicate their consent by signing the consent form in Annex A, before conducting the interview.

Introduction

Interviewer to read aloud:
I would like to thank you for your participation in this study.

In this study we hope to support UNICEF/UNHCR in obtaining a more comprehensive and in-depth understanding of the short and longer-term impacts of different social transfer packages being provided to Syrian refugees in host communities in Jordan, including the specific effects on children’s poverty and wellbeing.

Your input will help us with the monitoring and evaluation of this programme as well as contributing to the design of similar programmes in the future. You are kindly requested to provide answers about the topic based on your current experience and personal opinion. Giving your opinion with full transparency will help donors understand the benefit of the cash transfers and hence provide further support to refugees.

There are no right or wrong answers, and you are free to ask for clarification at any time if you do not understand the question.

Our discussion will take about 80 minutes, 90 minutes at the most. The discussion taking place will be kept confidential, and your name will be kept anonymous, unless you don’t mind such information being revealed. Please note that, if you don’t feel comfortable, you can withdraw from the discussion at any time.

I hope to be able to record our conversation on this tape recorder. This recording will only be used by us, the researchers, during this study and not shared with UNICEF/UNHCR or other people. We will ensure that the transcripts and recordings will be anonymized and that no third parties will have access to the raw research material. Please do inform us if you are uncomfortable with this arrangement.

Interviewer: Ask participants to sign Annex A or to acknowledge they have given consent on the tape recording.

Themes for key informant interviews

National level interviews (with implementing agencies providing CT services for Syrian refugees)

Interviewer: Use the following themes to guide your information gathering, and encourage the participants to elaborate as much as possible on their answers.

Objective: to provide an in-depth understanding of the short and longer-term impacts of different social transfer packages being provided to Syrian refugees in host communities in Jordan, including the specific effects on children’s poverty and wellbeing.

Introductory questions:

• What is your position?
• What role do you have in the agency you work in?

Theme 1: Abject vs absolute poverty
• How has poverty been defined in the CT programme your agency implements?
• What targeting criteria have been set in the programme you implement?
• Do you feel that the most vulnerable groups have benefited from the CT programme? Why / why not?
• What are some of the challenges related to the targeting criteria?

Theme 2: Approaches key implementing agencies
• What is the objective of the CT programme you implement?
• How does the approach of your agency differ from that of other agencies providing CT services?

Theme 3: Coordination mechanisms and challenges
• Are you aware of the various coordination mechanisms that have been put in place for these CT programmes?
• What is the relation you have to other implementing agencies providing CT to Syrian refugees?
• How do the different agencies providing CT services relate to each other? Is there overlap?
• What are the main challenges related to the coordination between the different agencies?
• What are the effects of these challenges on the beneficiary population?
• What steps have been taken to address these challenges and how is the implementation of these steps going?
• Would you be able to provide recommendations?

Theme 4: Politically sensitive issues
• What are some of the issues that are politically sensitive related to the implementation of cash transfer services in Jordan?
• What effect does this have on the target population?

Theme 5: History of the support
• When did the support for this programme start? How? Why?
• Has the level of support / funding changed over time? Why? How?
• What will be the future of the support? Until when is the funding secured for? And what will happen next?

Theme 7: M&E and learning to date on social transfers
• What M&E systems / mechanisms are being implemented in the programme you implement?
• What are the most telling findings you / your agency have / have found out from M&E data?
• What steps have been taken after the analysis of this data?

Theme 8: Vulnerability assessment
• How do you define vulnerability in your CT programme?
• How do you assess vulnerability within the CT programme you implement?
• To what extent is the assessment targeting the most vulnerable groups?
• Are there any groups that are not being targeted / falling through the net?
• What is going well and what information is missing?

Theme 9: Accountability mechanisms
• How have the beneficiaries been informed about the programme?
• What communication mechanisms exists to inform beneficiaries about the CT services?
• What complain systems and feedback loops have been put in place?
• What are the most received complaints / feedback that your agency has received?
• What follow up mechanisms exist? Or have been done? What will be done if there is a complaint about a staff member of the agency? (ask for e.g. being rude of uncooperative with CT beneficiaries; or wasta?)

Theme 10: Support networks and opportunities
• To what extent are beneficiaries able to access formal support networks (e.g. government support; loans from banks; other NGOs; health services etc.)?
• To what extent are beneficiaries able to access informal support networks (e.g. informal loans from friends or family members?)
• Has beneficiaries’ access to formal and informal services changed since they started receiving the cash transfer?

Theme 11: Employment / Livelihood opportunities
• To what extent are Syrian refugees now (post-London Accord) able to access formal employment opportunities?
• To what extent are Syrian refugees able to access non-formal employment opportunities?
What happens when a beneficiary gets access to short term of unstable work opportunities? (e.g. does this impact on the beneficiary’s ability to benefit from the CT programme?)
What effect does Syrian refugee’s ability to work or not to work on relationships with the host community? Why; how?

Theme 12: Role of the social workers
- What is the role of the social workers in the cash transfer programme you / your agency implements?
- What services do social workers provide? (probe: just monitoring or also case management services).
- How often do they visit the beneficiaries? (frequency, probe for number of beneficiaries they have to see etc.).

Theme 13: Relationship with host communities
- What are some of the key opportunities / success stories related to the relationship between the Syrian refugees and host communities and other refugee groups?
- What are some of the key challenges related to the relationship of Syrian refugees with host communities? (e.g. probe on discrimination because of opportunities available to refugees and not to local population, other refugee groups (e.g. Syrian Palestine / Palestine refugees).

Theme 14: Impacts on intra-household relations
- Who gets elected to be the card holder in the family? How does this process work?
- Have women gained more decision making power when / if they have received access to the card?
- How do people with mobility constrains access the cash transfers? Are they provided with additional services? (probe e.g. on how this works; who has spending power?)
- What happens in the case a child is heading the household – is he or she able to access the benefits?

Theme 15: Benefits levels provided
- What is the level of benefits that beneficiaries get provided?
- Are they able to access multiple allowances at once?
- Are they able to access different / more allowances during the winter period?

National level interviews (with other stakeholders, e.g. government officials, agencies providing services to other refugee populations; other donors)

Objective: to provide an in-depth understanding of the short and longer-term impacts of different social transfer packages being provided to Syrian refugees in host communities in Jordan, including the specific effects on children’s poverty and wellbeing.

Introductory questions:
- What is your position?
- What role do you have in the agency you work in?

Theme 1: Approaches key implementing agencies
- Can you name the different CT services available for Syrian refugees in Jordan? (for UNRWA probe for services available for Palestine refugees from Syria).
- What are the objectives of the different CT programmes?
- In what way do the approaches of different organisations differ?

Theme 2: Abject vs absolute poverty
- How have agencies defined the targeting criteria for their cash transfer projects? (for UNRWA: how have you defined your targeting criteria?)
- Do you feel that the most vulnerable groups have benefited from the CT programmes (for UNRWA: the services you offer)? Why / why not?
- What are some of the challenges related to the targeting criteria?
- Are there any groups that are not being targeted / falling through the net?
- What is going well and what information is missing?

Theme 3: Coordination mechanisms and challenges
- What is the relation you have to implementing agencies providing CT to Syrian refugees?
- How do the different agencies providing CT services relate to each other? Is there overlap?
- What are the main challenges related to the coordination between the different agencies?
- What are the effects of these challenges on the beneficiary population (for UNRWA: Palestine refugees from Syria)?
What steps have been taken to address these challenges and how is the implementation of these steps going?
Would you be able to provide recommendations?

Theme 4: History of the support
• When did the support for these programmes start? How? Why? (for UNRWA for the services you provide to Palestine refugees from Syria)?
• Has the level of support / funding changed over time? Why? How?
• What will be the future of the support? Until when is the funding secured for? And what will happen next?

Theme 5: Accountability mechanisms
• How have the beneficiaries been informed about the programme?
• What communication mechanisms exist to inform beneficiaries about the CT services?
• What complaint systems and feedback loops have been put in place?
• What are the most received complaints / feedback that you are aware of?
• What follow up mechanisms exist? Or have been done?
• What will be done if there is a complaint about a staff member of the agency? (ask for e.g. what if a beneficiary has been rude to a member of staff; wasta?)

Theme 6: Support networks and opportunities
• To what extent are beneficiaries able to access formal support networks (e.g. government support; loans from banks; other NGOs; health services etc.)?
• To what extent are Syrian refugees now (post-London Accord) able to access formal employment opportunities?
• To what extent are Syrian refugees able to access non-formal employment opportunities?

Theme 7: Relationship with host communities
• What are some of the key opportunities / success stories related to the relationship between the Syrian refugees and host communities and other refugee groups?
• What are some of the key challenges related to the relationship of Syrian refugees with host communities? (e.g. probe on discrimination because of opportunities available to refugees and not to local population, other refugee groups (e.g. Syrian Palestine / Palestine refugees)?

Area level interviews (with programme implementers on the field level: social workers, admin staff etc.).

Introductory questions:
• What is your position?
• What role do you have in the agency you work in?

Theme 1: Abject vs absolute poverty
• Do you feel that the most vulnerable groups have benefited from the CT programme? Why / why not?
• What are some of the challenges related to the targeting criteria?

• What are the effects of these challenges on the beneficiary population?
• What steps have been taken to address these challenges and how is the implementation of these steps going?
• Would you be able to provide recommendations?

Theme 4: M&E
• What M&E systems / mechanisms are being implemented in the field? (how often is data collected, how do you go about it; who collects the data? etc.)
• What steps have been taken after the analysis of this data? (e.g. feedback has been taken into account?)

Theme 5: Vulnerability assessment
• How do you assess vulnerability on the field?
• To what extent is the assessment targeting the most vulnerable groups?
• Are there any groups that are not being targeted / falling through the net?
- What is going well and what information is missing?

Theme 6: History of the support
- Has the level of support / funding changed over time? Why? How? And what effect did this have on the beneficiaries?

- Who decides what the benefits gets spend on? (probe: MHH, FHH, CHH etc.).
- How do people with mobility constrains access the cash transfers? Are they provided with additional services?
- What happens in the case a child is heading the household – is he or she able to access the benefits?

Theme 12: Benefits levels provided
- What is the level of benefits that beneficiaries get provided? Is it enough?
- Are they able to access multiple allowances at once?
- Are they able to access different / more allowances during the winter period?

Area level interviews (with service providers on the local level: e.g. social workers, clinicians, teachers etc.).

Introductory questions:
- What is your position?
- How and why do you engage with the beneficiary population (Syrian refugees)?

Theme 1: Abject vs absolute poverty
- What type of cash transfer services are available to Syrian refugee populations?
- Do you feel that the most vulnerable groups have benefited from the CT programme? Why / why not?
- Are there any groups that are not being targeted / falling through the net? What happens to them?

Theme 2: Coordination
- Which agencies provide CT programmes for Syrian refugees in your area?
- How do the different agencies providing CT services relate to each other?
- Do you know of cases where some people benefit more than others and cases where some do not benefit at all? How? Why?
- What steps, as far as you can see, have been taken to address these challenges?
• Would you be able to provide some recommendations?

Theme 3: History of the support
• Has the level of support / funding changed over time? Why? How? And what effect did this have on the beneficiaries?

Theme 4: Accountability mechanisms
• Do you know which people can make use of the programme and how they enrol?
• What communication mechanisms exists to inform beneficiaries about the CT services?
• What complaint systems and feedback loops have been put in place?
• Do you know what the main complaints are in regards to these services in the area you work in?
• Do you feel that if beneficiaries complain – their complaints are being taken serious?
• Does complaining help change the services provided? And why? And if not – why not?
• What will be done if there is a complaint about a staff member of the agency? (ask for e.g. what if a staff member has been rude to a beneficiary; wasa?)

Theme 5: Support networks and opportunities
• To what extent are Syrian refugees able to access formal support networks in the area you work in (e.g. government support; loans from banks; other NGOs; health services etc.)?
• To what extent are beneficiaries able to access informal support in the area you work in (e.g. informal loans from friends or family members?)
• Has beneficiaries’ access to formal and informal services changed since they started receiving the cash transfer?
• To what extent are Syrian refugees able to access formal employment opportunities?
• To what extent are Syrian refugees able to access non-formal employment opportunities?
• What effect does this have on their lives?

Theme 6: Role of the social workers
• What is the role of the social workers in the CT programmes that are implemented in the area you work in?
• What services do social workers provide? (probe: just monitoring or also case management services?).
• How often do the social workers visit the beneficiaries? (frequency, probe for number of beneficiaries they have to see etc.).

Theme 7: Relationship with host communities
• How is the relationship of the Syrian refugee with the host community in the area you work in?
• What are some of the key challenges related to the relationship of Syrian refugees with host communities? (e.g. probe on discrimination because of opportunities available to refugees and not to local population, other refugee groups (e.g. Syrian Palestine / Palestine refugees).

Theme 8: Impacts on intra-household relations
• Who decides what the benefits gets spent on in the household? (probe: MHH, FHH, CHH etc.).
• How do people with mobility constraints access the cash transfers? Are they provided with additional services?
• What happens in the case a child is heading the household – is he or she able to access the benefits?
• Are there any constraints to accessing the benefits due to age? If so, what?

Theme 9: Benefits levels provided
• What is the level of benefits that beneficiaries get provided? Is it enough?
• Are beneficiaries able to access multiple allowances at once?
• Are they able to access different / more allowances during the winter period?

PRA groups with children

Information for interviewer

All evidence generation practices must abide by UNICEF / UNHCR and ODI’s ethical guidelines at all times. All interviewees must give informed consent. Any interviews involving children and young people must take into account their competencies, and consent must be sought from a parent or guardian. Where possible, consent must still be given by the individual themselves. The interview must be conducted in a friendly and familiar environment in which the interviewee feels comfortable in order to minimize stress, and in the presence of their parent or guardian.

All participants must be made aware of the voluntary nature of their participation, and the decision whether to participate, including dissent or unwillingness to participate, must be respected. Interviewees must be made aware of their ability to withdraw at any time during the interview. Interviewees must be given the option to have the information they provide remain fully anonymous.

Please read the introduction to the interviewee(s) and answer any questions they may have, and ask the interview to indicate their consent by signing the consent form in Annex A, before conducting the interview.

Introduction

Interviewer to read aloud:

I would like to thank you for accepting to be part of this focus group discussion on UNICEF child cash grant and UNHCR Cash Transfer programmes as well as other cash transfer benefits that you might receive.

My name is.................................................................from.................................................................; and today we are here today to discuss the benefits and effects of Cash transfers that you are receiving.

Your input will help us with the monitoring and evaluation of this programme as well as contributing to the design of similar programmes in the future. You are kindly requested to provide answers about the topic based on your current experience and personal opinion. Giving your opinion with full transparency will help donors understand the benefit of the cash transfers and hence provide further support to refugees like yourself.

There are no right or wrong answers, and you are free to ask for clarification at any time if you do not understand the question. Also, please be assured that the answers you give today will not have any implications for receiving the cash transfers.

Our discussion / house visit will take about two hours. The discussion taking place will be kept confidential, and your name will be kept anonymous, unless you don’t mind such information being revealed. Please note that, if you don’t feel comfortable, you can withdraw from the discussion at any time.

I hope to be able to record our conversation on this tape recorder. This recording will only be used by us, the researchers, during this study and not shared with UNICEF/UNHCR or other people. We will ensure that the transcripts and recordings will be anonymized and that no third parties will have access to the raw research material. Please do inform us if you are uncomfortable with this arrangement.

Interviewer: Ask participants to sign Annex A or to acknowledge they have given consent on the tape recording and photography.
Group discussion questions

1. Do you know anything about the cash transfer project(s) your parents / your family is part of? If so, can you share with us what you know?
2. How was your life before your family started receiving the cash transfer(s)? (probe e.g. on household dynamics, nutrition, access to education etc.)
3. What has changed since your family starting receiving the cash transfers (probe e.g. on household dynamics, nutrition, access to education etc.). What has receiving the support/ CT(s) allowed you / your family to do? How does this make you feel?
4. Has anything changed specifically for you and your brothers and sisters since your family has started receiving the cash transfer benefits? When and how?
5. Do you have a say as to what gets purchased? And if so: how? If not: what would you purchase if you had a say about what gets purchased with the money?
6. Have people treated you or your family differently since your family receives the support? And if so: how? (negative and positive changes)

To understand children’s main concerns / support structures they have we will also undertake the following child specific exercises with two children in the house:

Group exercises

Worries (concern) exercise
Ask children to list or write down on index cards (or help them to do this), all the things that they have worried about in the last week (‘free listing’). These should be worries that are ‘local’, so it doesn’t have to be about ensuring world peace, and it should be relevant to their lives. For example, related to family, friends or environment. Have them sort them into “things that you worry about and can share” and “things that you worry about but can’t share”, putting them into two different coloured envelopes. We need to either record in the notes or through a photograph which cards went in which envelope (why we are doing this will be explained during the introduction when researchers ask for consent).

After they have generated their own list—then probe with specifics:

- E.g. hunger, not being able to go to school, not having enough school supplies, bullying at school, violence in the broader community, disagreements in the household, body changes, toilets (e.g. in slum areas, schools, communal toilets, mobility, harassment, having to work (boys), in context of menstruation, risk of violence (e.g. for boys and girls)) [although need to take care as to who is present during the interview], etc.
- With each, ask them who could help them with this worry and how—and then find out whether they have ever actually sought support. If they subsequently think of another worry, they can add it to the envelope.
- In the case of intra-household disagreements, ask what sorts of things people do and how the children respond and how do they feel about it.

Example of a worry exercise (see tool 1)

Social network analysis (to highlight intra household dynamics and support structures for children)
Ask children who they like spending time with and why and what they like to do together, how often they see each other etc. Divide the page into four quarters representing people children spent time with, get support from their worries, share good news, and prefer to avoid. Start with a picture of them in the middle and go through each quarter asking them to list the people who this applies to (this can be done as a group, or individually first (‘free listing’) and then discussed in a group).

- First ask children to think about the people they spend time with and draw symbols for the activities they enjoy doing together
- Next ask children to think about all the people [teacher/aunt/mother/peer/sibling/friend/other relative – not just name – name + relationship to child] in their lives who could help them if they had a problem. If they answer a peer, then probe “Is there an adult you would go to as well, if not why not?” and vice versa.
- And if something positive/exciting happened in their life who would you share this with. Then could ask about overlaps in who they would talk to/confide in – same or different and why. Then have then write them down or draw them. When they say
• that they talk to someone, ask how they do this, for example, face-to-face, on the phone or via the internet.
• Finally, ask the children whether there are any people in your life whom you spend time with that you don’t enjoy and why? If this feel too sensitive, please phrase as girls/boys of your age and ask who don’t they like to mix with? (this will keep it from becoming too personal).

Example of a social support quadrant below (please note that we won’t use the visual image when doing this exercise with the older adolescents) (see tool 1).

Discussion guide (adults)

Interviewer: Use the following questions to guide your information gathering, and encourage the participants to elaborate as much as possible on their answers.
Details of their story:

1. Where in Syria is your family from?
2. When did you / your family first come to Jordan and why? Did all of your family member come to Jordan or are some still in Syria? Are all of your children still with you?
3. Who do you live with and where? (Get details of the whole family / all people living in the household including age of children, if they go to school, what livelihoods people engage in, daily activities etc.; also ask about the activities of family members that live in other areas in Jordan or have migrated elsewhere)
4. Are you able to work? If not – why not? If so – where do you work? Have you worked in Jordan before? What is it like to work here / not being able to work anymore? Is this different for women and men? Why? Was this different from in Syria? What did you do in Syria? How did you make money before?
5. How is your relationship with your neighbours and others in the host communities? (probe around discrimination / economic situation of Jordanian people host communities? Also ask about feelings of isolation and social support structures available / non-available in Jordan?)

Programme details:

1. Which assistance do you receive? When did you start receiving the assistance – e.g. from UNICEF / UNHCR / WFP etc.? How often do you receive it? Who goes to collect it? Where do you go to collect it? How is your relationship with the shop owners’ / bank owners? Who decides what the funding gets spent on in your household? And is this decision-making different to other income sources? Probe for differences between the UNHCR / UNICEF /WFP systems in delivery, process and amounts available etc.
2. How many children does your family receive the assistance for? Do you or your family have any special needs or circumstances? Ask them to give details.
3. Have you faced any challenges regarding the assistance (including does not come regularly, ATMs not working, distance/cost to travel to ATMs, also probe for issues in the enrollment phase vs. implementation phase etc.)? (differs for the different donors?)
4. How is your relationship with programme implementers of the different programmes (UNICEF vs. UNHCR and WFP?) (including social workers, bank people, etc.)? Do they visit you often? (when was the last time), can you turn to them if you have a problem? Do you feel they listen to you, and can provide you with meaningful support?
5. What do you do if you have a problem with the assistance? (probe are there complaints procedures / grievances process, help lines, does this differ for the various transfers etc.)
6. Do you share problems related to the assistance with other beneficiaries? If so, when, how, how often?
7. Have you ever made a complaint and/or used a helpline when you were unsatisfied about the assistance? If so, what happened? If not, why not (didn’t know about complaints procedures, thought might lose cash transfer, etc.).

Ask for exact details and quantitative figures wherever possible.

1. How has/have the assistance had an impact on your life? And on your children’s lives? And on the lives of other members in your household? (Probe around food security and nutrition living conditions, financial situation, mental and physical wellbeing, levels of happiness, feelings of housing security, differences for the different programmes / modalities).
2. Who in your family decides what the assistance is spent on? Is this always the way money is spent in your household? Has this changed because of the assistance?
3. Have relationships between you and other members in your household changed as a result of the assistance If so, how? (including decision-making, tensions, etc.)
4. Have relationships between you and other people around you changed because of the assistance? (including other refugees in and out of camps, other refugee groups, host communities) and how? (explore positive and negative changes; differences between the different modalities)
5. Has the assistance affected your relationships with Jordanians in the area you live in?
6. Has your access to other services increased because of the assistance (probe for spillover effects on ability to access services – e.g. health or legal aid or educational support for children)? (what were you not able to do and can do now due to the assistance?)
Ask them to explain how this has happened, who it has affected, and in what ways.

1. Has this assistance had an impact on your / your family’s life / lives in the longer term? If so, how?
2. If the assistance stops, how would this affect your lives?
3. If the assistance stops, how would you manage your situation? (Reassure them before asking the question that this does not mean that the assistance will stop – state that we are talking about a hypothetical scenario).
4. Do you have access to or benefit from any other programme or services? What are those services? How do they help you? Have you received vouchers or in-kind assistance now or in the past? Do you prefer the cash, voucher or in-kind approach?

Specific exercises and questions to children

Questions to children part of a reunification programme

Worries (concern) exercise (as an icebreaker and contextual setting tool)

Ask children to list or write down on index cards (or help them to do this), all the things that they have worried about in the last week (‘free listing’).

These should be worries that are ‘local’, so it doesn’t have to be about ensuring world peace, and it should be relevant to their lives. For example, related to family, friends or environment. - With each, ask them who could help them with this worry and how—and then find out whether they have ever actually sought support. If they subsequently think of another worry, they can add it to the envelope.
- In the case of intra-household disagreements, ask what sorts of things people do and how the children respond and how do they feel about it.

Example of a worry exercise (see tool 1)

1. Do you know anything about the family reunification programmes(s) you / your family is part of? If so, can you share with us what you know?
2. How was your life before your family started receiving the assistance (probe e.g. on PSS well-being, happiness, relations with host family etc.)
3. What has changed since your family starting receiving the assistance? What has receiving the assistance / CT(s) allowed you / your family to do? How does this make you feel?
4. Has anything changed specifically for you and your brothers and sisters since your family has started receiving the assistance? When and how?

Follow up questions:

1. When did you came to Jordan? Are you going to school in Jordan? Which school? Since when? If not – do you go to any programme offered by an NGO for girls / boys?
2. Do you know anything about a family reunification programmes(s) that UNHCR offers? If so – are you able to share what you know with us?
3. Have people in your host family treated you or your family differently since you receive the assistance? And if so: how? (negative and positive changes)
4. What additional support would be helpful for young people like you and where would it be easiest for you to get information about such support – e.g. at school, in a letter/brochure, on the internet, through a home visit by a counsellor?

Research Purpose

The main purpose of this second round of qualitative research is to explore further issues arising from the first round of data collection. Similarly, it will provide more in-depth and nuanced findings for some of the patterns emerging in the first round of both quantitative and qualitative data collection. Focus Group Discussions (FGDs) will be conducted to better understand the perceptions of Syrian refugees benefiting from the assistance programmes (UNICEF/UNHCR and
Research Instruments: Effects of the UNHCR and UNICEF cash assistance for Syrian refugees in host communities in Jordan

WFP) and on the impact of these programmes on their lives. Amongst other things, information gathered will include how they use this assistance, expenditure patterns, coping strategies. Findings from this qualitative study will be woven together with findings from the quantitative survey and will be used to inform future Monitoring and Evaluation work around the assistance programmes.

Focus group discussions will be held with:

- WFP beneficiaries to further understand the effects / impacts of the additional UNICEF cash grant and the differences between the impact of the benefits received by WFP with the benefits received from UNHCR.
- People benefiting from UNICEF/UNHCR cash transfer programmes to learn from their experiences in receiving the CTs, the impacts they have had on their lives, etc.; especially in Ma’an where the research team has not been and where there are many fewer refugees in each host community.
- FGD with Syrian community based leaders i.e. teachers, health workers and others that can help us further understand educational, health and (child) labour conditions and services available.
- Girls and boys part of Makani programmes

Focus Groups Selection

The selection of focus group participants will be purposive and stratified, in that individuals will be invited to participate in each discussion based on the kind of assistance they are receiving, the role they take in in the community (i.e. teachers, local leaders) and the kind of household in which they are living. Additionally, FGDs with Syrian leaders will be conducted to get their views on these issues as well as with girls and boys taking part in the Makani programme (for further details see proposal for second round of qualitative fieldwork).

Given the conservative social norms in many of the beneficiary populations, the research team will interview beneficiaries in single sex groups so that participants will feel comfortable to articulate their views freely. FGDs will be held in groups of up to 10 people, allowing all participants the chance to have their opinions heard. Each FGD will last approximately 90 minutes.

Introduction

To be read out aloud by the facilitator.

I would like to thank you all for coming,

My name is __________________________ from__________________________; we are here today to discuss the benefits and effects of the assistance that you receive from the UNICEF / UNHCR/WFP (please amend according to the kind of respondents/assistance they receive). Your input will help us in improving the design of the assistance programmes.

You are kindly requested to provide answers about the topic based on your current experience and personal opinion of this assistance. Please feel free to be open and frank with us; all names will be kept anonymous. There are no right or wrong answers, and you are free to ask for clarification at any time if you do not understand the question. Also, please be assured that the answers you give today will not have any implications for receiving the assistance.

Our discussion will take about 90 minutes. We want this to be a group discussion, so feel free to participate without waiting to be called on. However, we would appreciate if only one person speaks at a time. Be assured that all of you will have equal opportunity to express your opinions and please be respectful to opposing attitudes/statements expressed by another participant. There is a lot we want to discuss, so at times I may need to keep the discussion moving on to the next topic.

I hope to be able to record our conversation on this tape recorder. This recording will only be used by us, the researchers, during this study to help us with our notes and will not be shared with UNICEF/UNHCR/WFP or any other people. We will ensure that the transcripts and recordings will be anonymized and that no third parties will have access to the raw research material. Please do inform us if you are uncomfortable with this arrangement.

The discussion taking place will be kept confidential, and your names will be kept anonymous. You can withdraw from the discussion at any time.
During the discussion it would be good if we could all respect some ground rules.

Ask all participants to turn their phones on silent – indicating that they are allowed to leave temporarily if there is an urgent call.

Now I would like to hear from you. Ask participants to introduce themselves before you start

Questions

The moderator will use four types of questions as needed: open-ended, follow-up, probing and prompted questions. In some cases, the moderator will follow a sequence that consists typically of four parts.

1. Starting with the main question and listening for its answer.
2. Then s/he will follow up and inquire about the answers.
3. And probe to clarify.
4. If necessary, they prompt (cue or aide) the probing questions.

Please note the guide below is the draft to be used with respondents receiving some form of assistance. The guide for Syrian leaders will be adapted from this one, but will following the basic outline and will focus on getting their views on the refugees receiving different kinds of assistance. • Explain the objective of the meeting.                                                                                         | 10                       |                                                                                       |
| Purpose and Satisfaction of Delivery Mechanism and processes | • Which assistance do you receive? (e.g. UNICEF, UNHCR, WFP, both etc.)
• How much is the assistance that you received?
• For what purpose do you receive the assistance?
• Why were you selected to receive the assistance? (probe – why you and not other people?)
• Is it clear why you are receiving the assistance?
• How do you receive the assistance? (e.g. process and delivery mechanism related questions)
• Is the selection procedure and selection criteria clear?
• Have there been any interruptions in receiving the assistance? If so, why?
• Is the time given to withdraw the money sufficient?
• How can someone file a complaint if they have a problem?
• Is there clear follow-up when a complaint is made?
• To what extent do people share their concerns with other assistance cash beneficiaries?
• To what extend to UNHCR / UNICEF / WFP staff provide assistance beneficiaries with support? How often do they visit? | 15                       | Probe
Probe further into questions about regularity of the assistance – would a different time frame be preferable and why? |
| Level of Assistance (Amount) | • How much assistance do you receive from UNHCR?
• How much do you receive from UNICEF? And others?
• What has the assistance enabled you to do which you would not be able to do before?                                                                 | 15                       | Explanation of basic needs: the minimum amount of resources a family needs to maintain their health and well-being |

| Did the assistance achieve intended results | • To what extent does the assistance help meet basic needs/requirements? E.g. for children and other household members? Does this differ according to the type of assistance received?
• Which services are e-card beneficiaries able to access that there were not able to access before? e.g. education, health services, quality healthy food, clothes, recreation, shoes, etc. Please explain.
• Have you experienced difficulties or challenges resulting from the receipt of the assistance? From other members of the household / family, community members, host community, other Syrian refugees, other refugees, government, additional costs, etc. Please explain.
• How was your life before receiving the assistance? How was your life after receiving the assistance? What has been the biggest change on your life after receiving the assistance? | 15 |
| Coping mechanisms | • If the assistance was stopped, in what ways would it affect the family including children? How would they cope? Please explain – would it impact on food/education/health/ other. | 10 | Moderators need to start this question with: ‘For the purpose of this evaluation, let me ask you a theoretical question so that we can better understand their impact…..if the assistance was’ |
| Intra-Family Decision Making | • Has the assistance enabled women to have a bigger say in what gets purchased within the household?
• Has the assistance enabled other family members to have a bigger say in what gets purchased within the household (that did not have a say before)? | 10 | Note if decision maker is different person to the one who collects the assistance. Notice gender of collector/decision maker. |
| Concluding/Ending Question | • To what extent was the assistance helpful in improving children’s and Syrian refugee household’s standard of living?
• What are some of the things that people now purchase with the assistance) that they would not have been able to purchase before?
• We have talked a lot about different benefits of the assistance. What has been the single most important change you have experienced? | 10 |
| Recommendations/Way Forward | • Do you have any recommendation for how the assistance could work better for Syrian Refugee families? | 10 | Ask in terms of amount, cash/kind, duration, criteria for eligibility, delivery |
| Specific questions for community leaders | • In your community, what do you think the impact of cash transfer programmes is? How does the cash transfer assist those in need? What are they able to do now, that they could not do before?
• Who are, according to you, the most vulnerable in your community? What kind of needs do these households have? Do you think the most vulnerable in your community access the cash transfer support programmes?
• How do you, as a community leader, mobilize response for these people in need? Are you able to influence decision making processes in your community and how?
• Can you name five successes and five challenges from the cash transfer programmes available in your community?
• How do you, in your community, mediate between CT beneficiaries and others in case of a conflict? What happens when a CT beneficiary is unsatisfied with the services offered?
• What additional support would it be useful to provide highly vulnerable refugee families? | 10 | Ideally, speak with both male and female leaders – but talk with them separately. |
Thank the participants for their participation—end with a positive note

Group exercises with Makani students

Worries (concern) exercise

Ask children to list or write down on index cards (or help them to do this), all the things that they have worried about in the last week (‘free listing’). These should be worries that are ‘local’, so it doesn’t have to be about ensuring world peace, and it should be relevant to their lives. For example, related to family, friends or environment. Have them sort them into “things that you worry about and can share” and “things that you worry about but can’t share”, putting them into two different coloured envelopes. We need to either record in the notes or through a photograph which cards went in which envelope (why we are doing this will be explained during the introduction when researchers ask for consent).

After they have generated their own list—then probe with specifics:

- E.g. hunger, not being able to go to school, not having enough school supplies, bullying at school, violence in the broader community, disagreements in the household, body changes, toilets (e.g. in slum areas, schools, communal toilets, mobility, harassment, having to work (boys), in context of menstruation, risk of violence (e.g. for boys and girls)) [although need to take care as to who is present during the interview], etc.
- With each, ask them who could help them with this worry and how—and then find out whether they have ever actually sought support. If they subsequently think of another worry, they can add it to the envelope.
- In the case of intra-household disagreements, ask what sorts of things people do and how the children respond and how do they feel about it.

Example of a worry exercise (see tool 1)

Social network analysis (to highlight intra household dynamics and support structures for children)

Ask children who they like spending time with and why and what they like to do together, how often they see each other etc. Divide the page into four quarters representing people children spent time with, get support from their worries, share good news, and prefer to avoid. Start with a picture of them in the middle and go through each quarter asking them to list the people who this applies to (this can be done as a group, or individually first (‘free listing’) and then discussed in a group).

- First ask children to think about the people they spend time with and draw symbols for the activities they enjoy doing together
- Next ask children to think about all the people [teacher/aunt/mother/peer/sibling/friend/other relative – not just name – name + relationship to child] in their lives who could help them if they had a problem. If they answer a peer, then probe ‘Is there an adult you would go to as well, if not why not?’ and vice versa.
- And if something positive/exciting happened in their life who would you share this with. Then could ask about overlaps in who they would talk to/confide in – same or different and why. Then have then write them down or draw them. When they say that they talk to someone, ask how they do this, for example, face-to-face, on the phone or via the internet.
- Finally, ask the children whether there are any people in your life whom you spend time with that you don’t enjoy and why? If this feel too sensitive, please phrase as girls/ boys of your age and ask who don't they like to mix with? (this will keep it from becoming too personal).
Key Informant Interview Guidelines

General information

Key stakeholders

1. National level – implementing partners of assistance/CT programmes both from within and outside the UN system. Particularly: UNHCR Heads of Departments – health, child protection, psychosocial, family unification.
2. National level – other service providers and key government officials
3. Area level – programme implementers: UNICEF / UNHCR – social workers and admin staff + managers
4. Area level – other service providers: social workers, leaders, teachers and clinicians

Note to interviewer

This table should be completed prior to conducting the interview so that you have a full understanding of why this case was selected.

Information for interviewer

All evidence generation practices must abide by UNICEF/UNHCR and ODI's ethical guidelines at all times. All interviewees must give informed consent. The interview must be conducted in a friendly and familiar environment in which the interviewee feels comfortable in order to minimize stress, and in the presence of their parent or guardian.

All participants must be made aware of the voluntary nature of their participation, and the decision whether to participate, including dissent or unwillingness to participate, must be respected. Interviewees must be made aware of their ability to withdraw at any time during the interview. Interviewees must be given the option to have the information they provide remain fully anonymous.

Please read the introduction to the interviewee(s) and answer any questions they may have, and ask the interview to indicate their consent by signing the consent form in Annex A, before conducting the interview.
Introduction

Interviewer to read aloud:

I would like to thank you for your participation in this study.

In this study we hope to support UNICEF/UNHCR in obtaining a more comprehensive and in-depth understanding of the short and longer-term impacts of different assistance being provided to Syrian refugees in host communities in Jordan.

Your input will help us with the monitoring and evaluation of this programme as well as contributing to the design of similar programmes in the future. You are kindly requested to provide answers about the topic based on your current experience and personal opinion. Giving your opinion with full transparency will help donors understand the benefit of the assistance/cash transfers and hence provide further support to refugees.

There are no right or wrong answers, and you are free to ask for clarification at any time if you do not understand the question.

Our discussion will take about 80 minutes, 90 minutes at the most. The discussion taking place will be kept confidential, and your name will be kept anonymous, unless you do not mind such information being revealed. Please note that, if you do not feel comfortable, you can withdraw from the discussion at any time.

I hope to be able to record our conversation on this tape recorder. This recording will only be used by us, the researchers, during this study and not shared with UNICEF/UNHCR or any other people. We will ensure that the transcripts and recordings will be anonymized and that no third parties will have access to the raw research material. Please do inform us if you are uncomfortable with this arrangement.

Interviewer: Ask participants to sign Annex A or to acknowledge they have given consent on the tape recording.

Themes for key informant interviews

National level interviews (with implementing agencies providing CTs for Syrian refugees)

Interviewer: Use the following themes to guide your information gathering, and encourage the participants to elaborate as much as possible on their answers.

Who? UNHCR Heads of Departments – health, child protection, psychosocial, family unification. We will select questions from the following themes depending upon the area of expertise.

Objective: to provide an in-depth understanding of the short and longer-term impacts of different social transfer packages being provided to Syrian refugees in host communities in Jordan.

Introductory questions:
- What is your position?
- What role do you have in the agency you work in?

Theme 1: Abject vs absolute poverty
- How has poverty been defined in the programmes your agency implements for vulnerable groups within the refugee population?
- What targeting criteria have been set in the programme you implement?
- Do you feel that the most vulnerable groups have benefited from the CT programme? Why/why not?
- What are some of the challenges related to the targeting criteria?

Theme 2: Approaches key implementing agencies
- What is the objective of the CT programme the agency you work for implements?
- How does the approach of your agency differ from that of other agencies providing CT and related services?
Theme 3: Coordination mechanisms and challenges
- Are you aware of the various coordination mechanisms that have been put in place for these CT programmes (in particular related to coordination between services you offer and that which the CT programme(s) offer)?
- What is the relation you have to other implementing agencies providing CT to Syrian refugees?
- How do the different agencies / departments providing CT services relate to each other? Is there overlap?
- What are the main challenges related to the coordination between the different agencies / departments (select which ever one is relevant)?
- What are the effects of these challenges on the beneficiary population?
- What steps have been taken to address these challenges and how is the implementation of these steps going?
- Would you be able to provide recommendations?

Theme 4: Politically sensitive issues
- What are some of the issues that are politically sensitive related to the implementation of cash transfer services / other service (depending on the role of the programme implementer) in Jordan?
- What effect does this have on the target population?

Theme 5: History of the support
- When did the support for this programme start? How? Why?
- Has the level of support / funding changed over time? Why? How?
- What will be the future of the support? Until when is the funding secured for? And what will happen next?

Theme 7: M&E and learning to date on social transfers
- What M&E systems / mechanisms are being implemented in the programme you implement?
- What are the most telling findings you / your agency have / have found out from M&E data?
- What steps have been taken after the analysis of this data?
- What sorts of feedback loops are there between community level workers, beneficiaries and national level workers?

Theme 8: Vulnerability assessment
- How do you define vulnerability in your programme?
- Are CT beneficiaries able to access your programme (if it is a different department in UNHCR)?
- How do you assess vulnerability within the programme you implement?
- To what extent is the assessment targeting the most vulnerable groups?
- Are there any groups that are not being targeted / falling through the net?
- What is going well and what information is missing?

Theme 9: Accountability mechanisms
- How have the beneficiaries been informed about the programme?
- What communication mechanisms exists to inform beneficiaries about the services you offer?
- What complaint systems and feedback loops have been put in place?
- What are the most received / most common complaints / feedback that your agency has received?
- What follow up mechanisms exist? Or have been done? What will be done if there is a complaint about a staff member of the agency? (ask for e.g. being rude of uncooperative with CT beneficiaries; or wasta?)

Theme 10: Support networks and opportunities
- To what extent are beneficiaries able to access formal support networks (e.g. government support; loans from banks; other NGOs; health services etc.)?
- To what extent are beneficiaries able to access informal support networks (e.g. informal loans from friends or family members)?
- Have beneficiaries’ access to formal and informal services changed since they started receiving the cash transfer?

Theme 11: Employment / Livelihood opportunities
- To what extent are Syrian refugees now (post-London Accord) able to access formal employment opportunities?
- To what extent are Syrian refugees able to access non-formal employment opportunities?
- What happens when a beneficiary gets access to short term or unstable work opportunities? (e.g. does this impact on the beneficiary’s ability to benefit from the CT programme?)
- What effect does Syrian refugee’s ability to work or not to work on relationships with the host community? Why; how?

Theme 12: Role of the social workers
- What is the role of the social workers in the cash transfer programme you / your agency implements?
- What services do social workers provide? (probe: just monitoring or also case management services).
How often do they visit the beneficiaries? (frequency, probe for number of beneficiaries they have to see etc., geographical locations where they are deployed etc.).

Theme 13: Relationship with host communities
- What are some of the key opportunities / success stories related to the relationship between the Syrian refugees and host communities and other refugee groups?
- What are some of the key challenges related to the relationship of Syrian refugees with host communities? (e.g. probe on discrimination because of opportunities available to refugees and not to local population, other refugee groups (e.g. Syrian Palestine / Palestine refugees).

Theme 14: Impacts on intra-household relations (specific questions for those who are implementing CT programmes or are offering CT and other assistance related services)
- (for WFP beneficiaries) who gets elected to be the card holder in the family? How does this process work? (for UNHCR / UNICEF beneficiaries): Who determines in the households what the money of the CT gets spend on?
- Have women gained more decision making power when / if they have received access to the card?
- How do people with mobility constraints access the cash transfers? Are they provided with additional services? (probe e.g. on how this works; who has spending power?)
- What happens when a child is heading the household – is he or she able to access the benefits?

Theme 15: Benefits levels provided
- What is the level of benefits / services that beneficiaries get provided within your programme?
- Are they able to access multiple allowances / services at once?
- Are they able to access different / more allowances during the winter period?

National level interviews (with other stakeholders, e.g. government officials, agencies providing services to other refugee populations; other donors)

Objective: to provide an in-depth understanding of the short and longer-term impacts of different social transfer packages being provided to Syrian refugees in host communities in Jordan, including the specific effects on children’s poverty and wellbeing.

Who: Ministry of Transport, Ministry of Labour and Ministry of Internal Affairs officials relating to refugees in host communities

Introductory questions:
- What is your position?
- What role do you have in the agency you work in?
- In what way is your agency involved in the Syria refugee response?

Theme 1: Approaches of key implementing agencies
- Can you name the different CT programmes available for Syrian refugees in Jordan? (for UNRWA probe for services available for Palestine refugees from Syria).
- What are the objectives of the different CT programmes?
- In what way do the approaches of different organisations differ?

Theme 2: Abject vs absolute poverty
- How have agencies defined the targeting criteria for their CT programmes?
- Do you feel that the most vulnerable groups have benefited from the CT programmes? Why / why not?
- What are some of the challenges related to the targeting criteria?
- Are there any groups that are not being targeted / falling through the net?
- What is going well and what information is missing?

Theme 3: Coordination mechanisms and challenges
- What is the relation you have to implementing agencies providing CT to Syrian refugees (for example, UNHCR, UNICEF)?
- How do the different agencies providing CT services relate to each other? Is there overlap in the response / services they offer?
- What are the main challenges related to the coordination between the different agencies? What is the role of the government in this coordination?
- What are the effects of these challenges on the beneficiary population?
• What steps have been taken to address these challenges and how is the implementation of these steps going?
• Would you be able to provide recommendations on how to improve coordination mechanisms?

Theme 4: History of the support
• When did the support for these programmes start? How? Why
• Has the level of support / funding changed over time? Why? How?
• What will be the future of the support? Until when is the funding secured for? And what will happen next?

Theme 5: Accountability mechanisms
• How have the beneficiaries been informed about the programme?
• What communication mechanisms exist to inform beneficiaries about CT services?
• What complaint systems and feedback loops have been put in place?
• What are the most received / most common complaints / feedback that you are aware of?
• What follow up mechanisms exist? Or have been done?
• What will be done if there is a complaint about a staff member of the agency? (ask for e.g. what if a beneficiary has been rude to a member of staff; wasa?)

Theme 6: Support networks and opportunities
• To what extent are beneficiaries able to access available formal support networks (e.g. government support; loans from banks; other NGOs; health services etc.)?

Theme 7: Relationship with host communities
• What are some of the key opportunities / success stories related to the relationship between the Syrian refugees and host communities and other refugee groups?
• What are some of the key challenges related to the relationship of Syrian refugees with host communities? (e.g. probe on discrimination because of opportunities available to refugees and not to local population, other refugee groups (e.g. Syrian Palestine / Palestine refugees)?

Theme 8: Transport
• We understand it is somewhat challenging for refugee families to obtain a drivers permit. Has this meant increased demand for public transport services and how have you dealt with this?
• Where are services working well? What are the challenges related to providing transport services for refugees?
• If there are new services, who uses these transport services?
• Are there any measures taken to ensure safety of passengers, especially given tensions in some communities between Jordanians and refugees? And especially girls and women?
• In the case of obtaining a drivers’ license, what steps are needed to do this? What paperwork is required etc.?
• What are the alternatives to getting around? Are there adequate taxi services? Are these affordable?
• How does the ministry assess demand for services, satisfaction for services, any complaints? Are there challenges in this?

Theme 9: Work permits and prosecution
• To what extent are Syrian refugees now (post-London Accord) able to access formal employment opportunities? To what extent are Syrian refugees able to access non-formal employment opportunities?
• Can you tell us about the current process for getting a work permit? Who is eligible? How are people made aware of the process (e.g. brochures, lectures at mosques, online, at government employment offices in local communities etc.?) How do they apply? Do they need a reference / specific paperwork etc. and how are these references assessed? How long does it take to get an application? Can you walk us through the steps?
• Do you have statistics on how many work permits have been issues to whom, by class of permit, by gender, age, governorate, sector, duration, type of work permit?
• Due to social norms, our understanding is that far fewer women are applying for work permits. Is the government doing anything to support women applicants, especially in the case of female-headed households? Why/why not?
• What about outreach to refugees living in remote areas? Are there special efforts to ensure they are aware of the permit process?
• In general are the work permits helping to fill roles that were previously vacant or is the influx of refugees leading to crowding out of locals in some occupational areas? How is this ministry dealing with possible tensions in this area?
• Is the government investing in creating new employment opportunities? Did the London Compact help with this – if so in what ways? What sort of timeframe are you planning to given that the end of the Syrian crisis is so uncertain?
• What are your views about social assistance programmes – do you think they act as a deterrent to households applying for work permits or is the assistance too low to make a difference in household calculi? (probe also on funds available for Jordanians that live under the poverty line).
• What happens if a refugee gets caught working illegally in Jordan? What steps are taken in terms of prosecution and how is the provision for legal aid arranged?
• What are the challenges for the Ministry of Interior Affairs and Ministry of Transport in relation to the issuing of work permits? (probe for relations with the host community etc.).

Area level interviews (with programme implementers on the field level)

Who: UNHCR and UNICEF community level staff

Introductory questions:
• What is your position?
• What role do you have in the agency you work in?

Theme 1: Abject vs absolute poverty
• Do you feel that the most vulnerable groups have benefited from the CT programme? Why / why not?
• What are some of the challenges related to the targeting criteria?

• What are the effects of these challenges on the beneficiary population?
• What steps have been taken to address these challenges and how is the implementation of these steps going?
• Would you be able to provide recommendations?

Theme 4: M&E
• What M&E systems / mechanisms are being implemented in the field? (how often is data collected, how do you go about it; who collects the data? etc.)
• What steps have been taken after the analysis of this data? (e.g. feedback has been taken into account?)

Theme 5: Vulnerability assessment
• How do you assess vulnerability on the field?
• To what extent is the assessment targeting the most vulnerable groups?
• Are there any groups that are not being targeted / falling through the net?
• What is going well and what information is missing?

Theme 6: History of the support
• Has the level of support / funding changed over time? Why? How? And what effect did this have on the beneficiaries?

- Who gets elected to be the card holder in the family? How does this process work?
- Who decides what the benefits gets spent on? (probe: MHH, FHH, CHH etc.).
- How do people with mobility constraints access the cash transfers? Are they provided with additional services?
- What happens when a child is heading the household – is he or she able to access the benefits?

Theme 12: Benefits levels provided
- What is the level of benefits that beneficiaries get provided? Is it enough?
- Are they able to access multiple allowances at once?
- Are they able to access different / more allowances during the winter period?

Area level interviews (with service providers on the local level)

Who: health workers, teachers, employers and formal and informal institutions.

Introductory questions:
- What is your position?
- How and why do you engage with the beneficiary population (Syrian refugees)?

Theme 1: Abject vs absolute poverty
- What type of cash transfer services are available to Syrian refugee populations?
- Do you feel that the most vulnerable groups have benefited from the CT programme? Why / why not?
- Are there any groups that are not being targeted / falling through the net? What happens to them?

Theme 2: Coordination
- Which agencies provide CT programmes for Syrian refugees in your area?
- How do the different agencies providing CT services relate to each other?
- Do you know of cases where some people benefit more than others and cases where some do not benefit at all? How? Why?
- What steps, as far as you can see, have been taken to address these challenges?
- Would you be able to provide some recommendations?

Theme 3: History of the support
- Has the level of support / funding changed over time? Why? How? And what effect did this have on the beneficiaries?

Theme 4: Accountability mechanisms
- Do you know which people can make use of the programme and how they enrol?
- What communication mechanisms exists to inform beneficiaries about the CT services?
- What complaint systems and feedback loops have been put in place?
- Do you know what the main complaints are in regards to these services in the area you work in?
- Do you feel that if beneficiaries complain – their complaints are being taken serious?
- Does complaining help change the services provided? And why? And if not – why not?
• What will be done if there is a complaint about a staff member of the agency? (ask for e.g. what if a staff member has been rude to a beneficiary; wasa?)

Theme 5: Support networks and opportunities
• To what extent are Syrian refugees able to access formal support networks in the area you work in (e.g. government support; loans from banks; other NGOs; health services etc.)?
• To what extent are beneficiaries able to access informal support in the area you work in (e.g. informal loans from friends or family members?)
• Has beneficiaries’ access to formal and informal services changed since they started receiving the cash transfer?
• To what extent are Syrian refugees able to access formal employment opportunities?
• To what extent are Syrian refugees able to access non-formal employment opportunities?
• What effect does this have on their lives?

Theme 6: Role of the social workers
• What is the role of the social workers in the CT programmes that are implemented in the area you work in?
• What services do social workers provide? (probe: just monitoring or also case management services?).
• How often do the social workers visit the beneficiaries? (frequency, probe for number of beneficiaries they have to see etc.).

Theme 7: Relationship with host communities
• How is the relationship of the Syrian refugee with the host community in the area you work in?
• What are some of the key challenges related to the relationship of Syrian refugees with host communities? (e.g. probe on discrimination because of opportunities available to refugees and not to local population, other refugee groups (e.g. Syrian Palestine / Palestine refugees).

Theme 8: Impacts on intra-household relations
• Who decides what the benefits gets spent on in the household? (probe: MHH, FHH, CHH etc.).
• How do people with mobility constraints access the cash transfers? Are they provided with additional services?
• What happens when a child is heading the household – is he or she able to access the benefits?
• Are there any constraints to accessing the benefits due to age? If so, what?

Theme 9: Benefits levels provided
• What is the level of benefits that beneficiaries get provided? Is it enough?
• Are beneficiaries able to access multiple allowances at once?
• Are they able to access different / more allowances during the winter period?

Theme 10: Teaching/ education for refugees
• What are the challenges that you face as a teacher (either makani, Islamic centre, formal school) in teaching children from refugee communities? (probe drop-out of school for long time, psychosocial support challenges of students, bullying by children in the host communities)
• What are your views on the double shift system? (and what do you think a solution could be?)
• What training if any have you been provided so as to be able to better support children who have likely gone through at a minimum very disruptive and likely traumatic changes as a result of their family’s refugee status? Do you think the training was adequate? What else would be helpful in terms of training?
• Are there counsellors or psychiatrists to whom you can refer children with more serious concerns? Have you made any referrals? Why/why not? (probe gender dimensions)
• Have you encountered any situations where refugee children are experiencing bullying/ exclusion at school or on the way to/from school? How do you tackle issues of bullying/ exclusion between local children and refugee children? (probe gender dimensions)
• What sort of relationship do you have with students’ parents? Are there good communication channels/ spaces?
• What are the main reasons for children to drop out of school / informal education services? What are the main barriers for parents and children? (probe: transport, quality of teaching, bullying, child marriage, gender dimensions, etc.).
• How do you tackle dropout risks – e.g. poverty and pressures to engage in child labour in the case of boys and pressures to marry in the case of teen girls?

Theme 11: Employers
• What experience have you had with the work permit system for refugees? Why did you engage with it? How many work permits have you secured for employees (men/women)? What is the profile of the refugee employees you have?
• What is working well with the system?
• What are some of the challenges? (probe: permit duration, scope of permit, accountability mechanisms etc.)
• Is there a good feedback system for queries or complaints to the Ministry of Labour?
• In your experience, what changes when Syrian refugee families are in a better financial position? (Probe on child labour – could be an entry point).

Theme 12: Healthcare providers

• What proportion of your clientele are refugees? Since when have refugees been using your services? What type of Syrian refugees can access your services (probe, UNHCR registration, registered with MoIA)? What are the typical health problems they present with? What proportion of the health-seeking is related to mental health?
• Are patients self-referred or referred from other agencies? Is there any information outreach about health services provided? Where and how?
• Do you think cost barriers are significant deterrents to health-seeking behaviour among refugee populations? Why/why not? And which health related expenses do they cut when their financial situation becomes tighter?
• Which other barriers exist for Syrian refugees in relation to accessing health care services? (probe: distance to services, fear of authorities, quality of services)
• Have health resources – staff and others – kept pace with increased demand since the onset of the Syrian refugee crisis? What has changed since the influx of Syrian refugees?
• Have health providers been provided with any training on how to best to engage with refugee populations? (probe, mental health issues, not wanting to declare a specific ailment, fear for authorities etc.)
• What do refugees do when they find themselves unable to access health services? What about reliance on traditional forms of healthcare? Do you see this among local populations? Among refugee populations? What are your views on this? Is it complementary? Detrimental? Indifferent?

Hello I am …………………… working with information and research center- King Hussein Foundation and Overseas Development Institute (ODI)-a UK based organization- on a study about the UNICEF and UNHCR cash transfer assistance for Syrian refugee families in the host communities in Jordan.

The study is a commissioned by UNICEF and UNHCR, and implemented by the ODI through local and international researchers. I am collecting data for this study, which focuses on the cash transfers currently existing to support Syrian refugees in Jordan. This study examines the dynamics, processes, use and effectiveness of the UNHCR and UNICEF unconditional cash assistance including the Child Cash Grant. The study will help us learn more about cash transfers from the perspectives of the rights and well-being of children and their families. The results of the study will help decision makers learn more about ways to improve the cash transfer programme.

You have been randomly selected to participate in this study as you met the inclusion criteria; therefore we conduct this visit to your household. The purpose of this visit is to gather information that will help us as independent researchers better understand the effects of the cash transfers on the overall living conditions and the wellbeing of the household and especially children. We are seeking to gather information about your household status, members especially children, livelihood conditions including housing conditions, assets you have, health, education, nutrition, working status, expenditure, coping, the effects of assistance on the HHs members’ wellbeing and etc.

Although participation in this study is voluntary and you can choose not to answer any question and/or all the questions, we would very much appreciate your participation since your answers are important. Participation in the study requires answering a set of questions and we will enter your responses into tablets directly. The questionnaire will require around 45 minutes to be completed. Whatever information you provide will be kept strictly confidential and will be seen only by the research team, and your name will not be shared with authorities. Again, this is voluntary and you may agree to answer the questionnaire but reject to participate -- completely or partially.

There will be no cost implication on you as a result of your participation and the information obtained about you and your family in this study will not affect services/support you receive; your data will be handled as confidential.

NB: Formal Education: free education is available to Syrian children in Jordanian public schools. Syrian children would gain an MOE certified education. Non-formal Education: UNICEF in collaboration with the MOE and Quest-scopes run a certified program for girls from the ages of 13-20 and boys from the ages of 13-18 that are out of school for a period of 16-24 months, once the program is complete, the graduate earns a MOE certificate equivalent to a 10th grade education that qualifies him/her to continue on to other forms of learning such as vocational training. Informal Education: educational activities that take place at local CBOs and are facilitated by a teacher. These educational activities are not certifiable by the Ministry of Education.

The following questions ask how you feel about your quality of life, health, or other areas of your life. I will read out each question to you, along with the response options. Please choose the answer that appears most appropriate. If you are unsure about which response to give to a question, the first response you think of is often the best one.

Please keep in mind your standards, hopes, pleasures and concerns. We ask that you think about your life in the last four weeks.
