Some materials (e.g., crop residues) may need to be soaked in water for 1-2 days before being compressed to briquettes.

This poster shows the different steps involved in the production of Fire-Fuel Briquettes which can be used to cook on fuel-efficient cookstoves.