Greece

In January, 4,000 people arrived, more than half of those who arrived last year. They are mostly families with children from Afghanistan and Syria. 1,850 arrived on the islands and 850 at the land borders. Perils are grave for refugees and staff working at the islands’ reception centres due to insecurity and sub-standard conditions with 36,200 sharing a space for 5,400. Among those most exposed to risks are unaccompanied children also due to the interruptions in guardianship. UNHCR stands ready to support the Government’s solutions for the revival of the programme.

Working with Partners

- UNHCR supports the Government of Greece who leads the refugee response, working closely with other United Nations agencies, international and national NGOs, regional and State institutions, municipalities, grassroots organizations, refugee communities and the local society.

Main Activities

Accommodation and Cash Assistance

- UNHCR runs the EU-funded ESTIA accommodation and cash assistance programmes in cooperation with the Government, municipalities and NGOs. UNHCR works closely with staff from State agencies for the transition of these programmes to the Greek authorities.

- Apartments in cities and towns offer asylum-seekers and refugees greater dignity and independence. Children can go to school, while access to healthcare and other services is facilitated and helps the integration of those who will remain in Greece. The host population also benefits from the 4,604 apartments and 8 buildings that the programme rents in 21 cities and towns across Greece. UNHCR had 25,700 accommodation places in January.

- UNHCR gave cash in the form of pre-paid cards to 94,000 asylum-seekers and refugees in apartments and sites. Cash allows refugees to choose what they need most. It is spent on food, goods and services, and contributes to the local community. In January, more than 9.1 million euro in cash assistance will eventually be re-injected into the local economy.

Protection

- Housing options and services to cater for the present population are limited countrywide. Relations between the refugee and host community have become tenuous with growing aggressive episodes and tension.

- Living conditions remain dangerous on the islands, with congested spaces, sub-standard sanitation and serious incidents. More police officers, including women, are needed as rampant insecurity is having an adverse impact on the well-being and safety of refugees and staff working in the reception centres. Unaccompanied boys and girls, single women and single-headed families are in particularly high risk.

- On 11 January, a shipwreck occurred with twelve dead southwest of Paxoi islands, in the Ionian Sea. UNHCR supported survivors with psychosocial care and accommodation. This was the first shipwreck in the Ionian Sea since 2013.

- Transfers from the islands to the mainland help liberate much-needed space in the reception centres. This month, UNHCR supported 2,100 out of 2,200 organized transfers. In total, 3,600 people departed to the mainland.
UNHCR’s team in Evros, at the Greek-Turkish land border helps people who have recently arrived at the Fylakio reception centre. They ensure they are informed and identified properly and that people with specific needs are directed to appropriate services.

UNHCR helps strengthen the national system and expertise by seconding 66 experts to the various State agencies to bolster their response and organizing trainings for Governmental staff.

UNHCR supports the Asylum Service with experts who advise the Asylum Service caseworkers upon request on how to conduct interviews, draft decisions on asylum applications and provide on-the-job training. UNHCR assisted in 1,067 instances in 2020, and 49,212 since 2016. This work has multiplying benefits beyond these instances promoting high quality in asylum processing and ensuring the integrity of the procedure.

From the beginning of 2020, UNHCR and its partners have helped over 2,300 asylum-seekers and beneficiaries of international protection with counselling and legal representation in order to prepare and support their cases, such as for family reunification procedures.

UNHCR HELP website answers questions in five languages on how to apply for asylum, on their rights and obligations, and on accessing services when living in Greece.

Child Protection

- Living conditions for the 5,500 children who arrived alone in Greece are critical as only one in five has a place in an appropriate shelter (EKKA data as of January).
- UNHCR is concerned that hundreds of unaccompanied children in Greece – already experiencing hardship – will be exposed to greater risks after a guardianship programme, supported by UNHCR with the Ministry of Labour and NGO METAdrasi, ended at the start of this year but has not been replaced yet by a planned Governmental scheme.
- UNHCR identifies vulnerable children and supports them with legal aid and psychosocial support through partners and boosts the response of the Government with expertise, trainings and advice.
- UNHCR’s partner METAdrasi safely moved 40 unaccompanied children from reception centres to temporary shelters on the mainland.
- UNHCR provides places in supported independent living apartments for 44 unaccompanied children over 16 years old, mentoring and empowering them to become self-reliant and live on their own. For younger children, UNHCR works with foster families to cater to the needs of 30 unaccompanied or separated children.

Prevention and Response to Sexual and Gender-based Violence

- Lack of privacy, inadequate lighting and long distance to toilets and showers foster risks of sexual and gender-based violence (SGBV) in the sites. In urban areas, homeless SGBV survivors have increased in the last six months based on a report of UNHCR’s partner Diotima. One out of three survivors report to have been raped.
while being homeless, while attempting to find safety or in Greece. They are often single mothers, have been tortured or have serious medical problems.

- UNHCR works to prevent and respond to SGBV in urban areas as well as some field locations and islands to identify survivors, including men and LGBTI persons, as well as people at risk, offering case management, legal information, counselling and psychosocial and medical attention through partners. UNHCR refers survivors and those at high risk of sexual exploitation to State services and shelters or accommodation in apartments where they can get expert help.

- UNHCR supports the authorities in strengthening the national reporting mechanism on trafficking, especially on the islands where the situation is more challenging.

Education

- UNHCR with UNICEF and other actors support the Ministry of Education (MoE) to include and prepare refugee boys and girls for public school. In the current school year, 88% of recognised refugee children in ESTIA accommodation are enrolled into public schools alongside their Greek peers. UNHCR estimates that 10,850 school-aged children (5-17) are on the Aegean islands, but less than three per cent attend school.

- In the absence of official classes, UNHCR works to bridge the gap in the education of children on the islands through six non-formal learning centres, as well as legal and psychosocial support to children at risk. In Athens, children and youth follow an innovative approach that offers opportunities for education and life skills-building.

- UNHCR joins forces with teachers and students to increase awareness about forced displacement and human rights through experiential learning techniques. In January, more than 80 teachers were trained on the use of interactive tools that help promote tolerance and openness for the integration of refugee students in schools.

Health

- UNHCR works with the Ministry of Health, the National Public Health Organization (EODY) and partners to help refugees and asylum-seekers access healthcare, also in coordination with the World Health Organization.

- UNHCR supports primary healthcare and psychosocial support services in Lesvos and mental health services in Attika and Thessaloniki. UNHCR works with experts to train and build the skills of non-specialist refugees to offer basic psychosocial support and empower vulnerable refugees, including those with mental health conditions.

Durable Solutions

- Since 2013, 51,600 people acquired refugee or subsidiary protection in Greece, of which 17,350 in December (Asylum Service data as of December). In January, 14,900 recognised refugees benefitted from cash assistance and 6,450 beneficiaries of international protection status were accommodated in UNHCR’s apartments.

- UNHCR supports the Government in promoting the national strategy on integration.

- UNHCR’s partners support those living in the accommodation scheme with job matching or referral to develop skills, vocational trainings and language courses. Of the recognised refugees living in UNHCR’s accommodation, 94% have an AMKA social security number, 77% have an AFM tax number, and 35% are registered with OAED unemployment agency. However, only 8% have a bank account which is a prerequisite for receiving a salary, among other.

- As of end January, the issuance of a new temporary health number (PAAYPA), which replaces the older AMKA social security number, largely allows asylum-seekers to obtain free healthcare, as well as access to the labour market.
- UNHCR also supports refugees in navigating the Greek civil, social and economic system and obtain access to much needed documents, such as travel papers, and family certificates. This helps refugees become self-reliant, have gainful employment and eventually become integrated into the Greek society.

Returns and Relocation

- UNHCR supports the Greek Government in relocating asylum-seekers and recognised refugees.
- Since the beginning of the Dubs’ scheme in 2017, 106 children departed to the United Kingdom following review by EKKA, UNHCR and IOM, while 13 await their transfer. UNHCR advocates for the continuation of the programme and for additional solidarity measures by other European states.
- This month, 53 people were returned from Greece to Turkey in the framework of the E.U. - Turkey Statement, with a total of 2,054 people since 20 March 2016.

Shelter and Core Relief Items

- UNHCR with partners is managing – in coordination with the Municipality of Lesvos – the Kara Tepe accommodation site which provides quality accommodation and protection to 1,300 vulnerable people or families.
- UNHCR also helps people who arrive in the northern part of Lesvos, providing basic assistance and a place to stay overnight in the transit site in Skala Sikamineas until the authorities are ready to receive them in the reception and identification centre.

Partners

In January, UNHCR worked through 33 partners: UNICEF, ARSIS, Iliaktida, INTERSOS, NOSTOS, Praksis, Solidarity Now, Catholic Relief Services, the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies, METAdrasi, the Greek Council for Refugees, the Network for Children’s Rights, Doctors of the World, the Association for Regional Development and Mental Health (EPAPSY), Diotima, Faros, International Rescue Committee, International Catholic Migration Commission (ICMC), Hellenic Theatre/Drama & Education Network (TENet), UNOPS, Perichoresis, OMNES and the Local Authorities of Athens, Piraeus, Thessaloniki, Livadia, Herakleion, Trikala, Nea Filadelfia – Nea Chalkidona, Karditsa, Larissa, Tripoli and Tilos.
