Establish a supportive learning environment at home and peer-to-peer support among siblings.

Set weekly goals with your children, encourage them and celebrate their accomplishments.

Here are some things you can do:

- Dialogue with your children and discuss their weekly learning schedule and assigned tasks.
- Engage your children in topics they are interested in to customize their learning.
- As they study, engage your children by participating in their learning and encouraging their creativity.
- Invite your children to share their ideas, challenge them by asking questions and respond to their proposals.
- Cater for their social and emotional needs by addressing their learning challenges, supporting them in building on their strengths and assessing their progression in a constructive way.
- Allow breaks during learning hours and ensure time for play and fun activities.

As schools have closed due to COVID-19, the majority of children are learning remotely. Motivating your children during remote learning is central to their success. Motivation means ensuring they are interested, involved and confident in their learning. As a parent you have an important role to play by providing your children with encouragement and feedback.

How to Motivate Your Children During Remote Learning

Tips for Parents