Background

Communication with Communities (CwC) is a key element of UNHCR’s protection and operational response. The priority of CwC activities is to ensure that refugees receive the right information in a timely manner, in order to preserve their protection, access to services, well-being, and to prevent fraud and protection risks.

UNHCR pays close attention to the occurrence of rumours by monitoring social media platforms, considering fraud and protection risks that they may generate, especially with the increase of resettlement opportunities. To prevent such risks, UNHCR shares information both proactively and reactively through various communication channels.

Using different communication tools is essential considering that the refugee population in Jordan is diverse in origin, backgrounds and locations and the fact that some messages concern either the entire refugee population or specific groups.
Communication Channels

Social Media remains the most powerful communication channel in Jordan. It allows UNHCR to publish any sort of information at no cost* and is a key tool in communicating with refugees.

- Facebook: UNHCR Jordan’s Facebook page currently has 129,039 followers, a significant majority of whom are refugees. In July, 15 posts were published on UNHCR Jordan’s page related to CWC and other content, reaching a combined total of 278,887 individuals, and covering topics such as information and news for refugees, general news, donor highlights, among other. Our most successful social media post in July was an announcement on work permit procedures, as part of a small campaign in coordination with ILO and the MoL, which garnered about 49,871 views alone. In July, engagement slightly increased compared to the previous month, in terms of likes, shares and comments.

Furthermore, UNHCR Jordan’s Facebook page receives messages from its followers, requesting information on certain aspects of files for registered POCs. For reasons of capacity and protection concerns, UNHCR Jordan does not provide any tailored answer through its social media portals, especially because administrators cannot verify the identity of the sender. For that reason, an autoreply was enabled to the messenger tool; the script is available in Annex I (below).

Finally, comments on all published posts are being monitored to make sure none of them contain any details that could affect the protection status of persons of concern; comments containing file numbers, phone numbers, contact details, addresses, insults, or swear words are being removed on the spot. Simultaneously, comments that are considered harmful or containing hate speech or discriminatory/derogatory material that might seem offensive to followers or persons of concern are also being removed. Any comment that may be considered spam or an advertising attempt is also being removed and the user gets blocked; this is to avoid the possibility of exploitation or harassment of any of UNHCR’s persons of concern.

*In addition to UNHCR Jordan’s official social media accounts, an agreement has been set in place with two independent pages (“Syrians Gathered in Jordan” and “Syrian Diaries in Jordan”), with a combined number of followers exceeding 120,000 people, to take content from UNHCR Jordan’s Facebook page and share it further through their pages. The support comes in a will to spread any announcement or piece of information that could of use to persons of concern in Jordan.

- Twitter: UNHCR Jordan’s account is followed by some 26,017 followers, but with the help of the “retweet” tool, certain Tweets reach a larger audience. In July, 21 Tweets were created to disseminate information of interest to refugees and general public, reaching a combined total of over 146,000 individuals.

Note: in case any person contacts UNHCR’s Facebook page or Twitter account by any form (comment or message) to report a claimed fraud issue, exploitation attempt, or any type of misconduct, the message gets forwarded to the concerned unit, copying the Anti-Fraud Panel.

COVID-19 and related arrangements remain the major highlight of mass communication during the month of July, with different messages and content disseminated through the varied channels. Content covered social media posts (8 posts on Facebook and Twitter combined), WhatsApp messages (5 messages), SMS and e-posters.
CwC Survey results and analysis were finalized during the month of July. Questionnaire covered different topics: communications, social media, media, information delivery and content. The results of the survey provide a wealth of information for UNHCR to utilize in adapting and enhancing the effectiveness of our communications with refugees.

Rumours and misinformation, especially in the current circumstances, take place more than usual. During the month of July, the number of rumours that UNHCR was alerted of by field colleagues, POCs and community representatives dropped, in comparison to previous months. Spread of misinformation, on the other hand, remained a challenge. UNHCR Jordan develops messages in a timely manner and circulated these announcements to wide audiences through all necessary channels (social media, WhatsApp, Info-Sharing Group, CSCs, JOHUD’s online magazine, etc.)

Help Site Jordan was launched on 8 April 2020. It is a website addressing POCs in Jordan and displaying detailed information on services provided by UNHCR and partners, in addition to links to other platforms, phone numbers, and media galleries. The information is available in Arabic and English to ensure accessibility to all POCs in Jordan. During the month of July, the Help Site Jordan received 18,194 users on 23,296 sessions and 47,416 pageviews. 91.04% of users are in Jordan, while the remaining 8.96% are in USA, Iraq, Turkey, Lebanon and 81 other countries.

Frequently Asked Questions are published on the site to provide POCs in Jordan with more details and information on certain services. Furthermore, a ‘How To’ template is available on the site, connecting Google search engines with the site to redirect users, based on pre-identified keywords. To date, 12 FAQs and 4 How To’s are marked up, with an expected expansion in the coming weeks to include more services.

Info-Sharing Group: in order to increase awareness of all actions taken in terms of communication among all units and offices of UNHCR Jordan, the Info-Sharing Group continued to be a key platform to disseminate information among staff ensuring that all front-line colleagues are on the same page when it comes to communication with communities and are aware of any recent announcements. This group was heavily relied on for colleagues to disseminate CwC material among counterparts, refugee groups and partners.

During the month of July, 5 announcements were shared through this group, mostly echoing posts published on social media, with topics covering COVID-19 awareness, education opportunities, updates on services and anti-fraud awareness messages. Members of the group are engaging to clarify certain matters when approached by POCs on selected topics, such as assistance, resettlement and access to services.

Bulk SMS Messaging facilitated by Zain Jordan has also been a powerful communication tool, allowing UNHCR Jordan to target audiences based off any set of criteria (nationality, location, education level, age, gender, marital status, etc.). During the month of July, over 1,340,000 messages were sent to more than 357,000 recipients to communicate information on different topics, related to education, assistance, registration, resettlement, etc.

UNHCR Helpdesks are one of the face-to-face communication tools that UNHCR depends on to deliver services of counselling, protection or assistance related. Helpdesks remain on hold during the month of July. Nevertheless, the Community-Based Protection team is handling outreach and counselling activities through phone calls (remote counselling). Cases are referred by the Helpline IVR, CSCs, and UNHCR partners. In July, 4,447 cases received counselling.
UNHCR Helpline (064008000) answered 245,565 phone calls from persons of concern through the Interactive Voice Response (IVR) system in July on all services provided by UNHCR (assistance, resettlement, protection, education, health). Basic needs (assistance) remains the top reason for calling, at about 45.1% of these calls.

Bridges of Communities is a group that was established in April 2019 to enhance the operation’s Communications with Communities (CwC) and Accountability to Affected Population (AAP). Comprising of 18 Syrian, Iraqi, Sudanese, Somali and Yemeni community leaders/representatives, the group meets on regular basis with UNHCR to discuss issues and challenges they face. During the month of July, the group met virtually with the UNHCR Representative. With the attendance of all 18 members, the participants shared with the Representative concerns of refugees in Jordan, as well as community trends.

WhatsApp Tree: facilitated by UNHCR and the Bridges of Communities group, UNHCR has established a WhatsApp tree where information related to services available, recent announcements and addressing rumours among the community are shared alongside it acting as a two-way communication tool such as referral of vulnerable cases. In total the WhatsApp tree consists of around 85 groups comprising of over 11,000 refugees.

The main needs voiced by refugees and captured through the different channels are as follows:

- Food and assistance to cover rent and essential basic needs remain the most-commonly expressed topic by refugees;
- The second most-common topic trending among refugees is the status when their Asylum Seeker/Refugee Certificate expires and cannot renew it; questions revolve around the consequences of the delay on a legal level and relating to access to services, such as healthcare; although remote renewal/registration procedures were published and announced on a very large scale, certain POCs remain unaware and further efforts are to be invested in the coming weeks to deliver the information to a wider audience;
- With the temporary interruption of work permits’ renewal from the Ministry of Labour due to the current circumstances, refugees with work permits and in the labour market, are susceptible to report to their duties without a valid permit; some might also be exposed to attempts of fraud or exploitation; a small campaign was launched, along with ILO and MoL, targeting POCs on this topic through SMS, social media, WhatsApp, and CSCs;
- The negative reaction remains among the community with regards to the limited accessibility to UNHCR services, such as interviews, face-to-face counselling, and Helpline capacity, all remain affected by the COVID-19 situation;
- Less awareness messages on COVID-19 were published on social media. Help site remains the main platform to host the awareness efforts;
- POCs are voicing the need to provide urgent assistance, instead of awareness messages, which is covered by all media outlets in Jordan;
- Rumours and misinformation spread at a slower and less frequent rate within the community;
- General confusion remains about the urgent assistance that UNHCR is providing measured against the appeal that was announced in the media;
- The feeling of anxiety, stress and emotional distress remains high due to lack of food and income, fear of eviction and fear of COVID-19 infection.
Expected projects to be completed in the coming quarter (July-September)

- More FAQ tabs and How To templates on the Help.unhcr platform
