KEY ACTIVITIES

> Protection & assistance: UNHCR continued to deliver protection and assistance through remote protection services and urgent cash programming, applying community-based protection approaches across different sectors. A cross-unit action plan was created to implement strategic activities to take account of, give account to, and be held to account by asylum-seekers and refugees.

> Communication with Communities: UNHCR continued to engage with refugee communities and resumed field missions and onsite activities such as consultations, dialogue sessions and focus groups discussions to ensure that refugee voices are informing decisions that impact their lives. Outreach to asylum-seekers and refugees was conducted through remote and in-person modalities following the Government’s regulations and public health and safety measures.

> Community Support Committees (CSCs): Various activities conducted by CSCs, bringing together refugees and host community members, to foster social cohesion, promote human rights, strengthen social support networks, promote livelihoods and self-reliance, and raise awareness about COVID-19 prevention and vaccination.

> Interagency coordination: UNHCR played a significant role in interagency coordination by focusing efforts on mainstreaming inclusion throughout the refugee response, building the capacity of humanitarian actors on cash and voucher assistance, and coordinating the provision of services in the Southern region.
