Background

As of beginning of April, over 2.5 million refugees have arrived to Poland from Ukraine. To support the humanitarian response, UNHCR together with partners launched the Regional Refugee Response Plan in March 2022, which is now being updated to cover the period till end December. UNHCR leads and coordinates the implementation of the RRP in line with the Refugee Coordination Model (RCM) and in close collaboration and consultation with relevant government counterparts, and with the support of inter-agency partners and other stakeholders. The humanitarian coordination structure is supported by an Information Management Working Group (IMWG).

In general, the coordination of information management in humanitarian situations is vital for:

1. Prompt and predictable responses
2. Evidence-based decision-making
3. Utilizing the information collected to the fullest extent possible
4. Avoiding duplicated or redundant data collection
5. Maximizing the efficiency of spending on information management

The IMWG will coordinate information management activities at the inter-agency level between partners within the context of the sector coordination groups in Poland at the national level.

Purpose

The aim of the IMWG is to strengthen humanitarian information management, assessments, and analysis to support improved decision making in emergency preparedness and response for Poland.

Main areas of work

1. To systematically share information on information management activities between organizations working on the humanitarian response in Poland, including planned and on-going assessments, statistics, maps, reports, analysis and other information products.
2. To coordinate and harmonize from an inter-agency perspective the establishment and management of monitoring systems, needs assessments and other information systems.
3. To provide a forum for discussions on data quality, data collection methodologies and technical data issues, including on population
4. To explore possibilities for joint information products including data analysis. Relevant actors should be invited to participate around thematic products and analysis.
5. Promote harmonization of codes and standards for e.g. locations, population types, and other datasets to facilitate comparison of data from various sources.

Assessment registry

Capture all data initiatives and assessments (sector specific, multi-sectoral etc.)

Output: inter-active dashboard.
